VOTE IS 11 TO 6 . . .

Committee OK's Fortas

© New York Times Service

Washington — The Senate Judiciary Committee approved Tusday the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be chief justice of the United States.

Despite the 11 to 6 committee vote in his favor, prospects for Senate confirmation of Fortas remained doubtful because opponents of the nomination have threatened to filibuster when the matter comes before the Senate next week.

Even the supporters of the nomination have expressed doubts that they can muster the two-thirds vote necessary to cut off debate.

Embarrassment

Meanwhile, another embarrassment arose for Fortas in connection with the $30,000 fund created by five wealthy contributors to pay for Fortas' summer seminar course at American University in Washington.

It was learned Tuesday that one of the contributors, insurance magnate Troy V. Post of Dallas, a former business associate and friend of Fortas, is the father of a young man who is appealing a conspiracy and fraud conviction through the federal courts.

The son, Troy V. Post Jr., has appealed his 18-to-24-month sentence to the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. From there, his only appeal would be to the Supreme Court.

Convicted

The younger Post was convicted of conspiracy and 12 counts of mail fraud in Federal District Court here June 20, 1966.

He and two other men were found guilty of collecting $1.5 million by selling memberships in a proposed new golf club in nearby Rockville, Md., and of siphoning off much of the money into their own pockets.

The appeal was argued before the Court of Appeals Dec. 5, 1966, and has not yet been decided. Post, a 38-year-old former attorney, is free pending appeal and is employed by an insurance company in Birmingham, Ala.

It was disclosed before the judiciary committee last week that Fortas was paid $15,000 plus secretarial expenses for conducting a nine-week weekly seminar on law and the social environment at America University this summer.

Fund Raised

The money was paid by the university from a fund that was raised last winter by Paul A. Porter, a former Washington law partner of Fortas, from the elder Post and four other wealthy businessmen who were friends of Porter or Fortas.

According to committee records, Post contributed $5,000 to the fund. Neither Fortas, Porter, Post nor any of the other contributors are alumni of American University. Before he became a justice, Fortas was a director of the Greatamerica Corp., a holding company. Post was its chairman and president.

Friends of Fortas have said he was not told that Post was one of the contributors, but they pointed out that he has routinely excused himself from consideration of all cases involving former clients or business associates.

Although a justice in Fortas' position would routinely excuse himself from the case if the appeal reached the Supreme Court, the incident is expected to provide ammunition for Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., who is leading the effort to block the Fortas nomination.

RED BATTALION HALVED

Gun Camp Is Charged

. . . IN RUBBER AREA

Saigon (AP) — U.S. soldiers holding an artillery camp in rubber plantation country northwest of Saigon destroyed nearly half of an enemy battalion of 400 men as it charged, sometimes shoulder to shoulder, against the American base, the U.S. Command reported Wednesday.

Spokesmen announced at the same time that Marine Brig. Gen. William Chip suffered a spine fracture Tuesday when his command helicopter crashed eight miles south of the demilitarized zone on a combat mission. Chip later was reported in satisfactory condition aboard a hospital ship.

131 Reds Fall

The heavy fighting Monday and Tuesday about 40 miles northwest of the capital, near Dau Tieng, resulted in the death of 131 enemy soldiers, the command said. The U.S. 25th Infantry Division lost four dead and 48 wounded, it added.

The enemy goal was to overrun the artillery camp called "Pope," dug into a rubber forest on the most traveled infiltration route toward the capital.

Battle reports for the preceding 48 hours showed a sharply rising level of action. Heavy fighting has been reported on the invasion corridor northwest of Saigon, just below the demilitarized zone and just south of Da Nang.

25 Marines, 37 Viets

The fighting below the demilitarized zone Monday and Tuesday cost the U.S. Marines 25 dead and 126 wounded while the battle south of Da Nang left 37 South Vietnamese rangers killed, 80 wounded and 21 missing.

In both these actions enemy losses were described as disproportionately light.

Military headquarters also reported finding another big ammunition and supply dump in the area just below the Demilitarized Zone where the Marines have been fighting.

The latest cache disgorged more than 11 tons of war booty, including such items as almost 1,000 mortar shells and about 150 mines.

In another ground action, about 500 North Vietnamese regulars overwhelmed a battalion of weary government rangers Tuesday, but another South Vietnamese unit avenged the defeat in a bloody day-long battle 10 miles south of Da Nang.

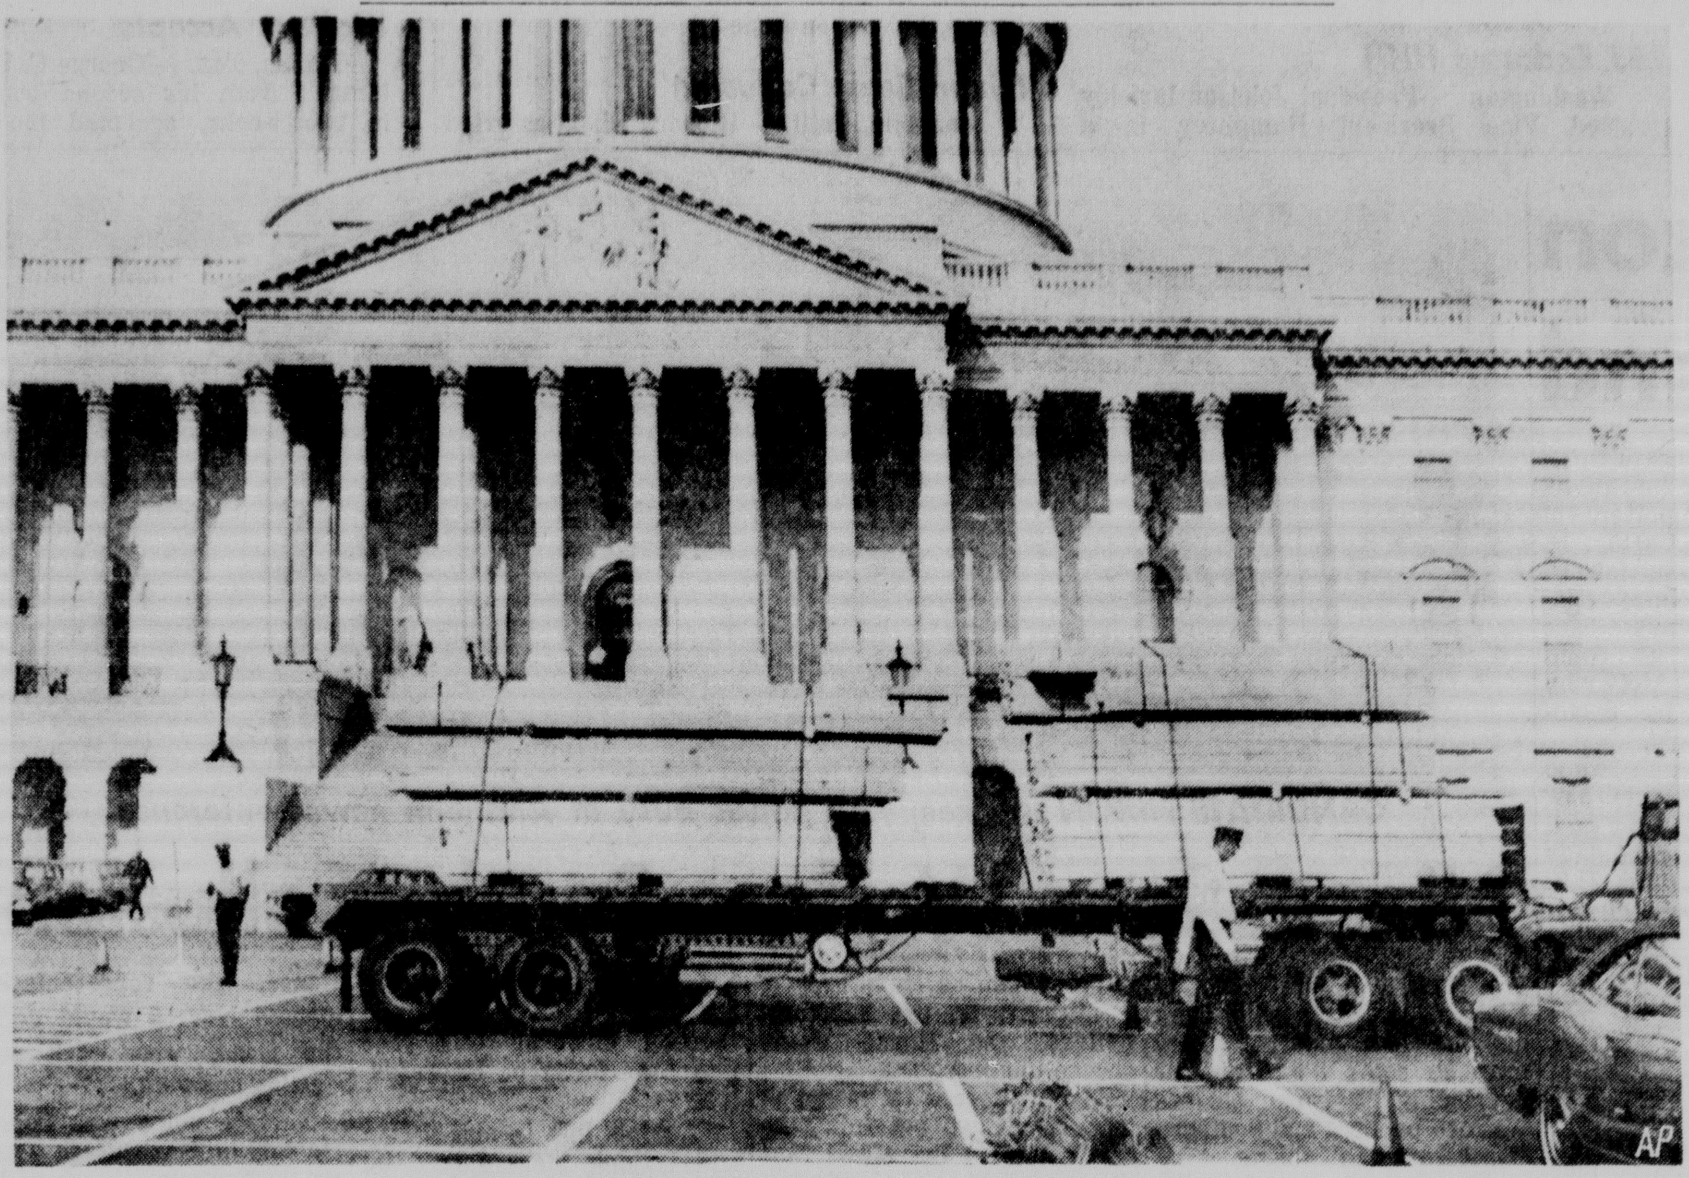
The South Vietnamese 39th Battalion was resting in a camp beside a canal when the Enemy attacked at 1 a.m.

The bloodied survivors fought their way to the camp of the 21st Ranger Battalion two miles away, and preparations were made for a retaliatory attack.

Lashes Back

At dawn the fresh battalion, backed by armored personnel carriers, lashed back, killing 82 enemy in savage fighting through the rice paddies. The 21st Battalion reported light casualties.

President Nguyen Van Thieu said in a speech his government "cannot accept peace proposals from any individual or group other than the just formula for peace that the government is pursuing." He added that he would not allow "unbridled freedom for thoughts on peace which are not in harmony with the government's."



INAUGURAL STAND MATERIAL ARRIVES

The first load of lumber to be used in the construction of inaugural stands arrives Tuesday at the east front of the Capitol in Washington, D.C. The inauguration of the new president will take place on the east steps of the building Jan 20, 1969.

Psychiatric Study Of Pope OKd

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt Tuesday granted motions for a psychiatric evaluation of Duane Earl Pope by a Lincoln psychiatrist and for a study of his general mental and physical condition by federal experts.

The studies are to be completed before Pope is resentenced on federal bank robbery charges on which he was convicted three years ago. Pope shot three people to death during the June 4, 1965, holdup of the Farmers State Bank in Big Springs.

Earlier this year, the U.S. Supreme court set aside the sentences, including the death sentence on three of the six counts, and ordered Pope resentenced. The high court cited legal infirmities in the death penalty provisions of the federal bankrobbing statute.

'Guidelines'

The new examinations were sought by defense co-counsel Robert Crosby and Prof. Wallace Rudolph to serve as guidelines for the court in resentencing Pope, now 25. His attorneys had argued at the trial that he was insane at the time of the holdup.

U.S. Attorney Theodore Richling, who prosecuted Pope, voiced no objections to the motions for additional study.

Choose Dr. Baldwin

Crosby and Rudolph chose Dr. John Baldwin of Lincoln, who had examined Pope previous to his trial. Pope will be re-examined by Dr. Baldwin in Lincoln on Thursday.

In accordance with federal statutes, Van Pelt resentenced Pope to 20 years for bank robbery — count one of the indictment — in order that he be examined by the government at any of several federal institutions.

The study period will last for three months, with an extension of three additional months if needed. Pope will then be resentenced by Van Pelt or could receive any other judgment consistent with the findings of the examination.

Unresolved

Van Pelt noted that if Pope was found to be presently insane, he could not be sentenced to prison.

Unresolved were questions relating to the defense's fight to avoid state court prosecution of Pope on murder charges, which could result in a death penalty under Nebraska law.

Judge Van Pelt took under submission a motion by the defense for a judgment of acquittal if Pope is not retried by the government in the event his conviction is reversed by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Similarly, he did not rule on a counter-motion by Richling that the last three counts of the indictment — those carrying the death penalty — be dismissed without prejudice, thus leaving the door open for bringing Pope to trial on murder charges in Deuel County.

Van Pelt said he would issue a ruling on the motions in memorandum form later. "I think you are entitled to my viewpoints," he told the opposing counsel.

Rudolph argued that Pope's right to appeal in higher courts would be "chilled" if Van Pelt did not bar state court action, because the defendant would be deprived of the defense of double jeopardy.

In Courtroom

Pope, who has been confined to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., was in the courtroom for Tuesday's oral arguments.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pope of rural Roxbury, Kan., viewed the proceedings from the visitors' section.

Two Reformatory Escapees Caught

Two Men's Reformatory inmates were back in custody Tuesday evening after about seven hours of freedom.

The men, Johnny Jeffries, 25, and Darrel Duncan, 18, both trusties, fled the reformatory sometime after 1 p.m. Tuesday, officials said.

They were picked up near 70th and O Sts. at about 8:30 p.m.

Senate Gets Nuclear Treaty; New Issue Clouds Prospects

Washington (UPI) — The suddenly controversial treaty to curb the nuclear arms race was sent Tuesday to the full Senate, where some members fear a homefront fallout if they vote approval in the aftermath of Russia's invasion of Czechoslovakia.

By a 13 to 3 vote, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee recommended ratification of the treaty, signed by 81 nations and designed to keep nations not now possessing nuclear weapons from building or buying their own.

The treaty has become a partisan issue in the last few weeks with Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon urging a postponement of a Senate vote on ratification lest approval be interpreted as American indifference to Czechoslovakia's fate.

Safety Measure

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and President Johnson have called for Senate ratification, arguing that the treaty involved many nations, not just the United States and the Soviet Union, and that it was designed to make life safer for everyone.

Sen. George Aiken, R-Vt., raised a new issue which further clouded the treaty's prospects.

He contended that one article in the treaty which would require nuclear nations to make available to non-nuclear signatories any technical devices developed for peaceful uses of atomic energy was a boondoggle for the oil industry.

Project Gasbuggy

He pointed to such experiments as Project Gasbuggy in New Mexico which would use the power of the atom to greatly expand the amount of national gas recoverable from a gas field.

Since all international oil companies would have access to these low-cost devices in the countries in which they operate, "it simply amounts to a new industrial subsidy which could come to hundreds of millions of dollars in the long run," Aiken said.

"This is not — as it has been billed — simply an international agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons and promise not to rain bombs on each other's helpless women and children," he said. "It is also a commitment to broad new economic and commercial policies, and this fact should be considered."

Aiken, along with Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, and John J. Williams, R-Del., abstained in the committee vote.

Voting no were Sens. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio; Thomas Dodd, D-Conn.; and Karl Mundt, R-S.D.

Voting to approve the treaty were Democrats Albert Gore, Tenn.; John Sparkman, Ala.; Mike Mansfield, Mont.; Wayne Morse, Ore.; Frank Church, Idaho; Stuart Symington, Mo.; Joseph S. Clark, Pa.; and Claiborne Pell, R-I.; and Republicans Clifford P. Case, N.J.; John Sherman Cooper, Ky., and Frank Carlson, Kan. Absentees J. William Fulbright and Eugene J. McCarthy sent in proxy yes votes.

Study Group Calls For Better Control Of State Vehicles

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Governor's "Little Hoover Commission" Tuesday advocated better control over the use of the state's 3,000 vehicles with supervision assigned to the Department of Administrative Services.

The study group, composed of 42 businessmen appointed by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, recommended a motor pool be established for "better utilization" of the large number of state vehicles in Lincoln.

Its report recommended standardization of motor vehicle operating records, central purchasing of items related to operation and maintenance and a uniform guidelines for vehicle replacement and operation.

Most Assigned

The 3,000 vehicles, including 1,400 passenger cars and station wagons and representing an investment of $7.5 million, are operated by 39 state agencies with almost all automobiles permanently assigned to individuals, the commission said.

It proposed all state vehicles be transferred to the Bureau of Transporation Services, and using agencies be billed through a revolving fund for actual operating costs.

Gasoline should be purchased from state facilities whenever practical, and use of privately-owned vehicles and assignment of state cars to individuals "should be minimized."

Cut Costs

The commission suggested the $750,000 reimbursed annually to employes using their own cars could be "realistically" cut by $187,500 by better utilization of state cars.

The commission recommended all state-owned aircraft be consolidated into the Department of Aeronautics with scheduling of their use by DAS's transportation bureau.

Noting over $800,000 annually is spent on commercial transportation, the report also suggested study be given to centralized scheduling through DAS.

In another area, the commission strongly urged an independent, economical feasibility study of the state telecommunications system.

It recommended further expansion of the now-leased pilot telecommunication system be delayed until the cost of the total system "can be accurately projected."

"A reputable, independent organization" should be employed to make the study, the commission said. "This program should be free of all vested interest and provide an objective program to cover the communication needs of the state and local organizations."

Calls For Board

It recommended establishment of the telecommunications board and proposed Telecommunication Services be one of the four bureaus operating in the General Services Division of DAS.

The other three would be Record Management, Capital Facilities Planning and Transportation Services.

Also packed into the second of two large reports on DAS was the recommendation for transfer of record management from the Secretary of State's office.

Record Storage

It proposed a uniform, statewide program for record storage, retention and disposal with management responsibility assigned to DAS.

Microfilming and other space-saving storage techniques should be utilized and a record retention schedule developed with the advice of the attorney general's office.

The proposed Capital Facilities Planning Bureau would insure state funds spent on capital improvements were justifiable and adequately analyzed in terms of design and costs, and appropriately executed, the commission said.

Each state agency would submit its six-year capital improvement program for review by the bureau and also submit construction contracts for review.

Officials Mum On Tax Issue Appeal

State officials remained mum late Tuesday on whether the Lancaster District Court order placing the anti-income tax amendment on the Nov. 5 ballot will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

However, Secretary of State Frank Marsh and Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer both indicated a formal statement probably would be issued Wednesday afternoon.

District Judge William C. Hastings ruled Monday the petition drive led by Loren Morris of North Platte to put the constitutional amendment prohibiting an income tax before the voters was successful.

Gov. Norbert Tiemann, Marsh, Meyer and Asst. Atty. Gen. Calvin Robinson, who defended Marsh, have withheld comment on Judge Hastings' ruling until the written opinion became available.

The judge ruled from the bench in overturning Marsh's July 26 finding of insufficient signatures on the petitions.

A copy of the written opinion reached the Statehouse about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Legal sources indicate an appeal to the Supreme Court could stay the District Court order pending a high court ruling in the matter.

Certification of the state ballot was made Tuesday by Marsh, and printing of absentee and disabled ballots has begun for pre-election distribution.

HHH Hits Nixon N-Treaty Stand

Rochester, N.Y. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey accused his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon, of playing politics with the lives of humanity and of being "further to the hawk side than anyone in this administration."

The vice president slammed at Nixon during campaign stops in Buffalo and Rochester, N.Y., where he also declared that his third party adversary — former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace — "is not good for this country."

During a question and answer panel program at an aircraft hangar in Rochester, the Democratic presidential candidate was told that many young former supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., were leaning toward Nixon rather than Humphrey.

He Understands

Humphrey said he could understand how the McCarthy supporters could be disappointed or even angry.

But at the same time Humphrey questioned how those who supported McCarthy — whose candidacy had been based on the U.S. role in Vietnam — could now turn toward Nixon. He called the Republican more hawkish than anyone in the Johnson administration.

Humphrey, in a speech Tuesday to a Democratic luncheon in Buffalo, attacked Nixon's stand on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty now awaiting approval by the Senate.

If the United States misses the opportunity to ratify the treaty, Humphrey declared, it may have "missed the opportunity to save the world from nuclear confrontation."

Delay Recommended

Although Nixon has endorsed the treaty he has recommended that the Senate withhold approval due to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

"Mr. Nixon, I ask you to be a statesman and to stop playing politics with the lives of humanity," Humphrey said.

Earlier, Humphrey told students and hecklers that as president he would do everything necessary to end the Vietnam war, but he reminded them that it is Lyndon Johnson — not himself — who is controlling events.

Humphrey, in a speech and question and answer session at Canisius College, a Roman Catholic school, said that if elected president "I'll do what I think I need to do" to end the war.

Outshouts Chanters

Humphrey was met by hecklers both at Canisius College and outside a downtown Buffalo hotel where he outshouted the chanters, saying: "Dissent, yes: Disorder, no."

Humphrey called for reason to settle the disputes rather than a "monolithic chant" and called for a repudiation of the "raucous voices of the left or the right."

Students at Canisius drowned out the Humphrey hecklers with applause and cheers. And Humphrey urged the students around the country to "turn away from those who would lead you to the streets, who would lead you to violence . . . to turn toward those who think."

This was greeted by loud applause and cheers.

World News

President Endorses Humphrey

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson Tuesday issued his first ringing endorsement of Hubert H. Humphrey for president. He urged the Democratic Party to "win this one for America" by electing Humphrey to succeed him.

Johnson's declaration that Humphrey's victory in the presidential campaign might "mean the difference between world order and world chaos" was his first public partisan word since he routinely congratulated the nominees after the Democratic National Convention.

"Hubert Humphrey is a fighter and a patriot," Johnson said. "I stood beside him in the battles of 20 years. I have watched him give his courage, common sense and compassion to the cause of America."

The President said nothing about Richard M. Nixon, Humphrey's Republican rival.

The President's statement came while Humphrey was portrayed in several national polls as dragging behind in his race with Nixon and, in one poll, even trailing George C. Wallace in electoral votes.

Johnson's endorsement was in the text of a telegram, the White House disclosed, which had been sent to the Texas Democratic Party convention in Austin.

Nixon Sees Wallace-South 'Collusion'

Anaheim, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday he has reports "there may be some collusion developing" between George Wallace backers and Southern Democrats to throw the presidential election into the House.

He called on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to repudiate any attempt.

The Republican presidential nominee talked at length about Wallace, the American Independent Party candidate, at his first news conference in 10 days.

If Wallace wins enough electoral votes to deprive either Nixon or Humphrey of a majority in the Electoral College, the House would choose the president.

Nixon referred to "some of the reports we get from the South now to the effect that there may be some collusion developing between Democratic leaders in the South, for the purpose of supporting Wallace, not for the purpose of supporting Mr. Humphrey."

As evidence, Nixon cited a syndicated newspaper column's report of an arrangement in South Carolina, "not for the purpose of getting the state for Hubert Humphrey, but for denying it to Nixon, for getting it for Wallace and thereby throwing this race into the House of Representatives."

"I think this is one nation and I think there should be a two-man race in the whole country," said Nixon.

"And I would certainly hope that Vice President Humphrey would repudiate any attempt on the part of southern Democrats to join with Mr. Wallace in attempting to throw this race into the House of Representatives."

If the election goes into the House, the representatives elected Nov. 5 would decide the issue, with each state casting one vote.

Nixon's voice was hoarse. He said he was suffering from an "aggravated" case of hay fever, the result of a visit to a farm near Des Moines, Iowa, Staurday.

Asked if he would engage in a debate, Nixon replied that "a national television debate between the two major candidates would serve the public interest."

But he said he would not take part in a "three-way debate."

Portuguese Chief's Hold On Life Thin

Lisbon (AP) — Prime Minister Antonio de Oliveira Salazar clung precariously to life Tuesday and Portugal's Council of State met in emergency session.

The 15-member body, from which President Americo Thomaz must draw advice to name a successor should Salazar die or become incapacitated, conferred for two hours, then adjourned.

The 79-year-old Salazar, Europe's most durable strongman, was reported still in a coma but had rallied slightly from the crippling stroke that brought him close to death Monday.

It was announced later that a New York neurosurgeon, Dr. Houston Merrit of the neurlogical institute of Columbia University Medical Center, was flying to Lisbon for direct consultations.

Chief Czechs To See Foreign Reds Again

Prague (AP) — The ruling Communist Party presidium said Tuesday night Czechoslovak leaders will meet again soon with foreign Communist leaders about problems affecting Soviet-occupied Czechoslovakia.

Unconfirmed reports said party chief Alexander Dubcek, President Ludvik Svoboda and Premier Oldrich Cernik will go to Moscow before the weekend.

The 21-man presidium also issued a call to Czechoslovaks who are abroad to return home. The communique said no one who did not break any Czechoslovak laws need fear any repercussions on his return home.

The presidium also said preparations must get on for the 14th congress of the Czechoslovak Communist Party.

The congress was held underground while Czechoslovak leaders were held captive in Moscow following the Soviet occupation on Aug. 20, but was later declared invalid.

This was one of the conditions of an agreemnet the Prague leadership signed in Moscow.

The government lifted Tuesday a ban on tourists that had been in force since the invasion.

A spokesman for the government travel agency Cedok said Czechoslovak embassies abroad have been told to issue visas to individual tourists as well as to group tours.

No Breakthrough Made On Pueblo

Washington (AP) — Another meeting with North Korean officials at Panmunjom has brought no breakthrough toward release of the crew of the USS Pueblo, the State Department said Tuesday.

The two sides met for two hours and 43 minutes Monday night, Washington time.

Senate Approves Gun Use Penalty

Washington (AP) — The Senate voted Tuesday to make punishable by life imprisonment the use of firearms in numerous federal crimes.

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., proposed this as an amendment to a bill prohibiting interstate mail order sales of rifles and shotguns.

The amendment was adopted by voice vote after Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said he knew of no opposition.

Risk Involved

Dominick told the Senate it would serve notice on anyone armed with a gun while committing a federal crime of violence that he was running the risk of life imprisonment.

Crimes of violence are defined to include rape, kidnaping, robbery, burglary, theft, racketeering, extortion, arsn and murder. The assassination of a president is aso specified.

Dominick's amendment provides that in addition to the present penalty for such a crime, a person may be sentenced to imprisonment for an indeterminate number of years up to life if carrying a firearm while committing the crime.

Guns Confiscation

The Senate also adopted by voice vote an amendment to prohibit the confiscation by a government agency of any legally held and used firearm.

Sen. Daniel Brewster, D-Md., said there is nothing in the bill that would allow confiscation but there is widespread concern among gun owners that firearms controls could eventually lead to that.

Also accepted as part of the firearms control measure was a provision making an exception to an over-all ban on over-the-counter sales of rifles and shotguns to nonresidents of a state.

Adjoining State

The exception, written into the bill by the Senate Judiciary Committee, permits a person to make a purchase in an adjoining state if this complies with the laws of both states.

The Senate agreed to this by voice vote after extensive discussion in which it was emphasized that a purchaser's state of residence would have to have implementing legislation.

Numerous amendments remain to be acted on, including proposed registration of firearms and licensing of owners, but leaders are hopeful of passing the bill before the end of the week.

Clapp Supports Vice President

REA Chief Addresses Region NRECA Meet

Des Moines, Iowa (AP) — The head of the Rural Electrification Administration gave Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey a boost Tuesday before an audience of electrical co-operative administrators.

"The most important public decision this year is going to be the selection of the next president of the United States," REA chief Norman M. Clapp said at a regional meeting at Des Moines of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

'Ideal Blend'

He charged the administrators from Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin with the task of providing leadership to achieve "an ideal blend between the advantages of urban communities with the advantages which rural America and the rural environment has before and can in the future provide." Then he added:

"You are going to need the kind of support and personal commitment Vice President Humphrey has consistently given this program all through his years of public service, if you are going to discharge successfully the responsibilities which are already being thrust upon you."

In order to get adequate financing and greater freedom of operation, Clapp said, "you are going to need the support, the understanding and the personal commitment of the man who sits in the White House."

Cites Loans

Clapp said rural electric co-operatives now generate 23% of the power distributed over their lines, compared with 16% when Democrats took the White House in 1961.

"You know that we have made more rural electrification loans these past seven years than in any similar period in the history of the electric program," he said.

Scherbarth Calls For Solons To Reorganize Public Power

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Fairbury — A candidate for state senator from the 31st District has called on the Legislature to "initiate laws and provide leadership to reorganize our public power agencies."

Businessman Ted Scherbarth, a former Fairbury mayor, issued a prepared statement charging that electric rates are unnecessarily high because of "duplication of services and . . . inefficient small public power agencies." The costs of needless litigation, he opined, are reflected both in higher rates and taxes.

"Most of the people involved agree that what Nebraska needs is one large statewide generation and transmission system to serve all of the public power districts and municipalities," the candidate stated.

Scherbarth said service is "the No. 1 power problem" and pledged to work toward improvement if elected. He described power outages as "frequent" and said they cost both time and money.

Because of a strain on existing facilities, he said, many farmers are unable to obtain three-phase power. They are thus forced to buy single-phase motors at a price "almost double that of three-phase motors."

"Why should we, the electrical users, pay extra . . . when all the power companies belong to us and should be made to serve us the way they were intended?" asked Scherbarth.

His opponent in the November general election is Willard Waldo of De Witt, a former state senator.

Mayor Attempts To Catch Thief Found In House

Washington (AP) — A thief entered the home of Mayor Walter E. Washington early Tuesday and the mayor himself chased the intruder without catching him.

The amount taken was not determined immediately. The mayor said none of his belongings were taken, but a purse of another family member was found later in an alley with no money in it.

Washington said he was awakened as the intruder was coming up the stairs to the mayor's third-floor bedroom. He called out and the man turned and fled. The mayor said he chased the man out his back door but abandoned the pursuit there because he was in pajamas.

The mayor's home, in downtown Washington, has no regular police guard but is given more frequent surveillance than the normal police patrol.

2 Hospitalized In Truck-Train Crash At Hebron

Hebron (AP) — Two persons remained hospitalized Tuesday for injuries suffered in a spectacular truck-train collision at a crossing two miles north of here Monday.

The Burlington train, consisting of an engine and a caboose, was overturned by the force of the impact.

Hospitalized were Louis Moul of Fairmont, driver of the semi-trailer truck, and Joe Martin of Hanover, Kan., a brakeman on the train. Neither was believed in serious condition.

Flames Damage Bohemian Cafe

Omaha (UPI) — Fire early Tuesday damaged the Bohemian Cafe here.

A short circuit in the wiring of a juke box sound system was believed responsible. Damage was estimated at $20,000 by owner Robert Kapoun, who lives above the cafe.

Kapoun said the fire burned the bar and dining room area in the front of the cafe.

Motor Said Blaze Cause At Waverly

Waverly — An overheated motor on a grain leg belt is blamed for the fire damaging the Farmers Co-Op Elevator here Tuesday afternoon.

Flames destroyed the head house and damaged grain in the old feed mill portion of the elevator, according to a spokesman. There was only about 2,000 bushels of grain stored in the damaged portion.

Firemen from Greenwood joined Waverly firefighters in battling the blaze which broke out about 2 p.m. An hour later the blaze was brought under control.

Lyle Johnson serves as elevator manager. No dollar figures on the loss were immediately available.

The old part of the elevator which suffered damage in the fire had been scheduled to be torn down in a couple of weeks, a spokesman said.

Nebraska News

Gothenburg (UPI) — An accident involving two motorcycles claimed the life Monday of Richard Schleeman, 17, Gothenburg.

The "five days" will be scattered over the period, with about two hours given each "coffee break."

Mrs. Morrison seeks the seat now held by Rep. Glenn Cunningham, R-Neb.

'Friends' Dump Student In Schuyler Cornfield

Schuyler (AP) — After getting some help from a Schuyler blacksmith and a $10 loan from Colfax County Deputy Sheriff Everett Poole, Mike Epstein, 20, of New Hyde Park, N.Y., headed back to his classes Tuesday at Cornell College at Mount Vernon, Iowa.

Epstein showed up at the Rudy Heun farm about 11 miles northwest of here about dark Monday night with his hands bound behind him with a chain and padlock and a gag in his mouth.

He told Heun and Sheriff Richard Kruse he had been dumped in a cornfield by six fraternity brothers from Cornell and told to "have a good time in Nebraska."

Left Blindfolded

Before depositing their fraternity brother in the field, his buddies stripped Epstein of his watch, billfold and all identification. He said he also had been blindfolded, but managed to work it loose.

Epstein's "good time in Nebraska" included an overnight stay in the Colfax County Jail. Authorities provided him with free lodging because he wanted to save the $5 bill he had sewn in the lining of his coat.

Asked by Sheriff Kruse if he wanted to press charges, Epstein answered: "No, they're my friends."

More Omaha Security Guards For Schools Due

Omaha (AP) — More security guards will be hired by the Omaha school district as fast as suitable men are available, Supt. Owen Knutzen said.

But Dr. Knutzen said there is no certainty that as many as four guards could have prevented the beating last week of a Central High teacher.

School officials said the teacher was apparently beaten by two non-students who entered the building without permission.

Central is one of four schools in line for security guards. The district plans to hire a total of 12 this year.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A writer this morning has taken issue with something he clipped out of the Daily Nebraskan, student publication at the University of Nebraska. The clipping reads:

"The Lincoln Police Department (you know, those boys in blue down in 10th Street who polish their nightsticks every night and dream of the day when they'll have a riot of their very own) have subscribed to the Daily Nebraskan.

"It's nice to know you're wanted, but in what way?"

The writer states that he believes in editorial freedom, "but ridiculous and irresponsible blurbs such as this are totally uncalled for."

Yes, they are uncalled for. But perhaps the article does demonstrate the understanding gap that exists today among various groups of people. It is far too easy these days to generalize from a position of prejudice than to face the facts.

It is certainly ridiculous to think that the Lincoln police are dreaming of a riot. It is equally ridiculous to think that they have anything against any particular segment of society. The fact is that Lincoln has a very fine Police Department and one that has been the subject of very little criticism on any basis, including brutality or excessive exercise of force.

While police have become involved in matters of a social and political nature through individual and group use of demonstrations and civil disobedience, a big part of their job still remains the prevention of crime and the apprehension of criminals involving all kinds of felonies.

While political disturbances of one kind or another have stolen the spotlight, the regular old day-in-and-day-out criminal has gone on about his business. There are still demented people who molest others, there are unstable characters capable of killing another human being, there are gamblers, thieves, dope peddlers and a host of other unsavory odd-balls who prey upon society.

There are hit-and-run and drunken drivers, con artists, arsonists, forgers and many others who violate all the norms and proprieties of the world in which they live. And there are more of all kinds of these unwanted people every day, as the crime statistics clearly tell us.

Even the politically suave and highly idealistic youth of the nation should recognize the importance of police in dealing with this hard-core crime.

What the article in the Daily Nebraskan reflects, probably as much as anything else, is the current youthful disenchantment with the antagonism toward what is known as the establishment. The police represent the establishment because they enforce the current order of society, which is their job.

If you were advising a young man or woman today, you would do them a favor by advising them to make their contribution to the world within the framework of established law and order and even established custom and precedence. There is ample room there to make a contribution and even to change the course of events if the person has sufficient ability and dedication.

And while recognizing all this, it should be remembered that police are human and law-enforcement is a human institution, just as subject to corruption and abuse as is anyone or anything else. A uniform, a gun or a nightstick doesn't make a man either right or wrong. The man makes himself one way or another and that's what more people ought to realize and keep in mind.

DON MacLEAN

World-Conquering Dream Inspired By Hitler's Bed

WASHINGTON — I was lying in bed reading the Sunday New York Times (resting, of course, from the exertion of trying to LIFT the Sunday New York Times) when in the classified section I read an item which brought me bolt upright:

"HITLER'S BED — Valuable wood-work. Authenticity can be proven. Size: 2 by 1.22 meters. To be sold to the highest bidder. Offers to: D 1293, Dierks-Werbung KG, Kaiserstr. 55, 325 Hamein, West Germany."

Just imagine, owning Hitler's bed! There you are, in your home in the suburbs, sleeping in the same bed in which the Fuhrer dreamed of world conquest and perhaps dreaming of conquests of your own — while all around you your neighbors are sleeping peacefully, unsuspecting, as you lie there night after night, plotting and planning . . . planning and plotting. . .

Ah, if your neighbor who borrowed your lawn mower and never returned it only knew what was in store for him, he'd be at your back door in the morning, with your lawn mower, and quivering in fright. Wait until the New Order takes over, THEN we'll see who's boss!

I'll bet owning Hitler's bed could affect some people that way. But my question is: How much would you bid if you wanted to buy it? $100? A million? I mean, what is a fair price for the bed that almost destroyed mankind? And if I bought it, would people some day say, "That's Don Maclean's bed, once owned by Adolf Hitler?"

☆ ☆ ☆

I can see a ready market in Washington, not only for Hitler's bed, but for other, similar Old World artifacts. For instance, what State Department public relations man could resist bidding on Joseph Goebbels' typewriter?

No doubt competition would be keen for Hermann Goering's suitcase, packed for a quick getaway, but never used. Or how about Tojo's "Victory Medal," worn on Dec. 7, 1941, but seldom thereafter. And I imagine that somewhere there is Joseph Stalin's pen, used to sign a thousand treaties and with a special compartment for disappearing ink.

But getting back to Hitler's bed, it won't surprise me a bit if it is bought by someone here in Washington. (Although I doubt if my bid of $1.75 will be the winner.) The odds favor this city over all others. More politicians than you might suspect go to bed at night and in the dark envision the day when they shall seize power.

Of course, if one of them did buy Hitler's bed, we might never know. It's a private thing, really, to lie there and dream of being the first kid on your block to rule the world.

Tax Ruling An Asset

We are totally against a vote in November on the income tax but we still believe the ruling for a vote made by the Lancaster County District Court is a good one. The court, you must understand, did not decide the merits of the income tax vote or the initiative petition movement by which the tax question might get on the ballot.

The court considered only the legality of the matter. In the end, it said that government cannot be heavy-handed in thwarting the petition rights of citizens and you just can't argue with that.

Some of these citizens may want things you don't want, at all, but you can't deny them the means of seeking those things. Both the initiative and referendum process should be thoroughly examined by the Legislature as they appear to be far too easy to comply with for the sake of good government. But to correct any abuse of the system is a legislative matter, not an administrative one.

The court felt that the state administration, in denying many signatures on petitions for an income tax vote in November, construed the law too narrowly. The administration stretched the law in order to knock out signatures that should have been accepted.

It is patently improper and dangerous to democracy to do this. The people's right to petition must be carefully protected, even though in Nebraska it needs to be better balanced with the need for an effective system of governing.

Morse Backing Humphrey

Skeptics in Oregon are sneering at Sen. Wayne Morse's instant and apparent wholehearted support for the Humphrey-Muskie ticket.

Morse backed Sen. Eugene McCarthy and was even more critical than McCarthy of the administration's policies in Vietnam. While McCarthy has refused—so far—to support the ticket, Morse lost no time in announcing his support and rushing back to Oregon to campaign.

The reason is that Morse is up for re-election this year, and in the back of his mind is the statistic that more Democrats voted against him in the primary than voted for him. So unless there is a "close ranks" movement in Oregon, Morse's opponent, State Rep. Robert Packwood, running on the coattails of Richard Nixon, just, might upset Morse.

Morse, of course, has been a Democrat (beginning in 1952 when he denounced Gen. Eisenhower), an independent (who campaigned for Adlai Stevenson) and not (apparently) a party regular.

That's a strange record, made even stranger by the fact that he is now supporting Hubert Humphrey despite the fact that Humphrey is running on a less dovish Vietnam than Morse would have liked.

It would be nice if one could accept Morse's strategy as a bid for party unity, the defeat of Nixon, etc., etc. It would be acceptable if one could say of Morse what we can't say of McCarthy, that he is a party man who places party victory above all else.

But apparently this isn't the case. McCarthy seems to be placing principle above politics (a move which just might help elect Nixon). But Morse seemingly has no problem in reconciling himself to running with (and for) Humphrey. Which is another way of saying that his re-election comes above all else.

DREW PEARSON

Exploring Reasons For Czech Invasion; Russia May Have Feared Rift In Empire

Bucharest, Romania — The Russian occupation of Czechoslovakia has been the most momentous European event since Hitler invaded the country in 1938 in his prelude to World War II, or since Archduke Franz Ferdinand was assassinated at Sarejevo in 1914. It has raised vitally important questions which affect the United States, such as:

1. Is the Soviet Union's vast empire of many different ethnic groups about to break up?

2. To prevent a breakup, will Russian troops be moved into other countries one year later, just as Nazi troops were one year later and occupied Poland?

3. Should the United States drastically curtail its military operations in Southeast Asia or even end the Vietnam war altogether in order to strengthen NATO?

4. Should Lyndon Johnson persevere in his efforts to talk long-range peace with Moscow or drop his efforts altogether?

5. Is there a chance of change in Moscow either of policy or leadership?

To answer these questions I have visited most of the capitals immediately adjacent to Czechoslovakia, interviewed many leaders, some off the record. The answers are not easy.

Czechoslovakia was extremely friendly to Russia. Even as early as 1923, five years after the Czech Republic was founded, Edouard Benes, then foreign minister, told me Czechoslovakia's policy must be intertwined with Russia's. Later the Soviet sided with Czechs at the time of Munich, when Neville Chamberlain took a runout powder. After that it was the Russian army which largely rescued the Czechs from the Nazi occupation.

☆ ☆ ☆

Despite all this, Soviet leaders took the drastic step of doing to the Czechs what they had fought Hitler for doing. Why? The Kremlin saw other Communist-bloc countries getting contaminated by the new Czech freedoms and figured that if Czechoslovakia got away with it, the entire bloc would fall, one by one.

Yugoslavia had left the Soviet orbit long before, but it was geographically more isolated and in recent years had been careful not to criticize the Soviet Union. Romania five years ago had bolted the Warsaw Alliance and conducted its independent foreign policy, but it had adhered to right communist doctrine. It also maintained friendly, uncritical relations with Moscow.

Czechoslovakia, however, had substituted social democracy for communism and was rapidly heading toward a parliamentary system.

Czechoslovakia occupies a key military corridor splitting communist nations in two, which when occupied by Nazi troops led to the downfall of Poland and the invasion of Russia.

Finally and perhaps most importantly, the Russian intelligenzia is getting contaminated by Czech political ideas. Russian tourists were crossing the border to marvel at Czech freedoms and came home to spread the word. It spread especially to the Ukraine, which borders on Czechoslovakia, where thousands of tourists crossed the border and which has long been restless under Soviet rule. In the final showdown, it was Ukrainian Secretary General Pyotr Shelest who was most vigorous against Czech leaders.

All these things led up to the first four-day showdown between Czech and Russian leaders at Cierna and Brataslava. These talks were far less friendly than indicated by the final handshaking and bear hugs.

Surprisingly, Premier Kosygin, who seemed mild-mannered at the Glassboro sessions, was one of the toughest. Brezhnev was more conciliatory, though somewhat changeable. Surprisingly, Mikhail Suslov, the Stalinist hardliner, was more conciliatory than the others. He's in charge of the communist parties in Italy, France, Austria and the rest of Europe, so knew what their reaction would be to any crackdown on Czechoslovakia.

One hardline communist attending the final Bratislava conference was Walter Ulbricht, leader of East Germany and a long bitter skeptic about any cooperation with West Germany, who had noted with concern Czechoslovakia's new trade and tourist interchange and its generally friendly relations with the West German government. One week after Bratislava, he returned to Czechoslovakia for the conference at Karlovy Vary Aug. 12, where he proposed conciliatory steps for economic and scientific cooperation and emphasized the importance of Czech-East German understanding. This was quite a chnage for Ulbricht and the Czechs frankly didn't believe him. They rebuffed his overtures.

This may have been their biggest mistake. Ulbricht flew to Moscow immediately with reports that the Czechs had no intention of carrying out their Bratislava pledges. This was one of the major factors in tipping the scales for a military invasion.

MARQUIS CHILDS

LBJ Looks To A Summit

WASHINGTON — In the four months remaining in his presidency, Lyndon Johnson is bent on a summit. While the initial goal was Moscow, and this is still not entirely ruled out, the consolation prize is Asian summitry, with 1966 as a precedent.

The plans are being readied for Bangkok some time after mid-October. Naturally no one will admit to this for a moment. Conceivably it could be broader in concept than merely the allies in the Vietnam war — a conference of Asian powers, including Japan, charting the Johnson legacy of economic rehabilitation over a wide arc.

But whatever the locale, it is a safe bet that the President will be out of the country as the Nixon-Humphrey contest goes into the final embittered weeks. Johnson wants desperately to score in the last inning so that his record in foreign policy will be at least somewhat redeemed.

The Soviet take-over in Prague was for the President a personal disaster, since it thwarted his mission to Moscow. He had anticipated initiating the talks that would eventually lead to a slowdown in the nuclear arms race. That would have been a fitting climax to the nuclear non-proliferation treaty agreed to after so many long painstaking months of higgling and haggling at Geneva.

Seen, however, in larger perspective, the personal consequences for one man's place in history are dwarfed to insignificance. Prague may have put a period to the last chance to stop short of the brink.

As was almost inevitable, Prague has poisoned the political atmosphere here at home. In his acceptance speech at Miami Beach, Richard Nixon called for negotiation with the Soviet Union. This was his alternative to the cold war. Now he says the nuclear treaty should be held up and this may mean its death. Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford reacted by calling for a go-ahead on the anti-ballistic missile on the theory that the United States in the missile talks must negotiate from a position of strength. This means another upward notch, since the military masters in Moscow will certainly insist on their own position of strength.

In these waning months with his Gallup rating at an all-time low, the handwriting on the wall is all too plain for Johnson. Every sign points to a disaster for his party. Understandably he does not want to be trapped in the ruins.

Two years ago he took the same reading and planned to be out of the country so that presumably the blame would not fall on him. He went on a grand tour of the Pacific, beginning with New Zealand and Australia. Everywhere huge crowds thronged the streets and for the most part they were friendly crowds.

The climax came with a seven-nation conference in Manila. The conference ended on Oct. 25 with a communique pledging that all foreign troops would be withdrawn from South Vietnam six months after North Vietnam stopped its aggression and infiltration and withdrew its forces. From Manila, Johnson went on to Thailand, Malaysia and South Korea where he received the most tumultuous reception of the tour, with 2,000,000 people in the streets of Seoul.

A day ot two before the tour ended, Bill Moyers, then the President's press secretary and strong right arm, let it be known that on his return, Johnson would start out on a furious campaign swing taking him to as many as 18 states. Urgent appeals had come from at least a half-dozen states, notably Illinois, California and Oregon, where the Democrats were in serious trouble. Reporters accompanying the President wrote that he meant to ride to the rescue of his beleaguered party.

The day after he got back to Washington, he held a press conference and with considerable heat denied that he had ever intended to hit the campaign trail. It was all a fabrication of some one's imagination. In the face of this denial, the intelligence was widely circulated in Chicago as to the route the President was to follow when he came on his mission of salvation.

How much he could have done at that late date to save veterans such as Sen. Paul Douglas was questionable. In any event, he did not campaign. The Republicans won 47 House seats. Douglas, Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California and other unfortunates went down to defeat.

World Citizenship

Lincoln, Neb.

The educational system in the United States, as well as other countries, should instill in individuals a sense of world citizenship rather than a sense of national citizenship. This is not to say a person should not be proud of his nation, but he should not let this pride in his country lead him to endorse policies of his government which, while satisfying the private needs of his country, are harmful to other portions of the world community. Since his government is an institution of imperfect human beings, he must not consider its actions to be infallibly right.

If more people had the perspective that a sense of world citizenship gives, the threat of international conflict and war would be reduced. Capitalist nations like to blame world crises on "communism" and "communist aggression," while communist nations like to blame world crises on "capitalism" and "capitalist imperialism;" but neither ideology is entirely guilty nor entirely guiltless in the creation of world crises. What is at the root of world crises is nationalism, the pursuing of divergent, often conflicting national goals. A concern for what is in the interest of the world community as a whole would reduce the conflict.

One outcome of a sense of world citizenship would be a recognition that the world community would be much safer and more peaceful with multilateral disarmament enforced by a world government than it is at present with national policies of nuclear deterrence, which are based on mutual fear and distrust. The adoption of a sense of world citizenship would serve the cause of world peace.

The Old Nixon

Hastings, Neb.

Nixon & Company are up to Nixon's old tactics that he learned from his first campaign manager—"Smear your opponent and by the time they can deny it, many people will believe the smear."

I know Nixon's history from A to Z, so I have no doubts but what he knew what Agnew was going to say about the vice president. He probably told him what to say.

The old Nixon is peeping through.

The Power

Lincoln, Neb.

A mother has the power to set in motion forces which create life. In such a manner, a Supreme Court can set in motion events which pronounce a man a lawyer. What a mother cannot do is take or detract from the life. This remains to a power which created her.

Similarly neither can the Supreme Court legally say to the lawyer, you are disbarred, disgraced, contempted for action you have performed. This power rests with the court's creator, the people and their representative, the legislature.

By fiat our court illegally assumed this power in 1937 by integration of all lawyers in the state into a trade union from which there is no withdrawal without the court's permission. The court was never given such power by any Nebraska constitution, either territorial or state.

State Engineer

Blair, Neb.

I would say from first-hand knowledge that Marvin Nuernberger, just appointed by Gov. Tiemann to succeed John Hossack as state engineer, is a qualified, knowledgeable, experienced and capable civil engineer, well versed in all phases of modern highway construction. So was his predecessor, John Hossack, under whose jurisdiction Mr. Nuernberger had worked for some years.

From the news release on the appointment of Mr. Nuernberger, I see he is listed as a Republican. I suppose this may have been given in response to a question. If not, I find it difficult to understand what possible difference it makes in the qualification to give good service by our state engineer. Actually, we have had only one state engineer appointed by any of our governors in Nebraska who was a Democrat, and this was Roy Cochran, and I see nothing in the record that this fact hurt him or his record.

Study Of Platte Dam's Secondary Benefits Set

A contract to study the secondary benefits resulting from the proposed construction of the 64,000-acre dam and reservoir on the Platte River near Ashland has been awarded to the Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City.

The $58,300 contract was issued by the Omaha and Lincoln Chambers of Commerce. Administration and coordination of the study is being provided by the Industrial Research and Information Services Division (IRIS) of the Nebraska Department of Economic Development.

The cost of the study is being shared by the two chambers with monies raised through a special solicitation from among several leading Omaha-Lincoln businesses and associations.

Result Of Study

The awarding of the contract was the result of a study by a special three-man committee assigned to find a method of preparing a report on the secondary benefits of the damsite and the probable costs of such a report.

The team, headed by James R. Smith, Northern Natural Gas Co., and consisting of Carlin Whitesell, Peter Kiewit Sons' Co., and Hal Schroeder of Lincoln, manager of the Salt Valley Watershed District, was appointed by Omaha Chamber President Charles W. Durham in April, 1967.

Smith said the Kansas City research firm will "study the indirect or secondary benefits" of the proposed dam and reservoir project. He said the study is intended to augment a planning report now being prepared by the Omaha District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

'Not A Duplicate'

"This study will not duplicate the findings of the corps," Mr. Smith said, "because federal regulations restrict the corps' examination to include mainly primary benefits making a complete study of all benefits beyond the purview of its authority.

"The two reports should dovetail into a complete and comprehensive study," he added.

Smith said the MRI study will deal with the many important socio-economic benefits of the project and will add weight to the corps' report on the benefits of the proposed water impoundment.

"Both chambers have recognized the economic importance of a major dam and reservoir project between Omaha and Lincoln and that such a project would have a major impact on the future growth of the two communities," Smith said.

Induced Benefits

The objective MRI study, he said, will try to determine the developmental impact — the induced benefits — the project would have on the two communities and the area between them.

These include recreation in a relatively water recreation-starved area, its effects on urban development between the two cities, and the projects' effects on industrial development.

"There are several excellent industrial development areas in the general vicinity of the proposed reservoir," he said.

The $58,300 price tag includes approximately $14,000 for additional research which may be subcontracted to St. Louis' Washington University and the University of Chicago by MRI.

County Welfare Offices Praised

A State Welfare Department study indicates Nebraska county welfare offices are doing an excellent job in determining eligibility of persons for public assistance under state guidelines.

Richard J. Nelson, chief of research and statistics, said Tuesday the probability of ineligible persons being on public assistance in the state is less than .005%.

He compared this figure with the national average of 2% and the regional average of 1.5%.

Scientific Sampling

Nelson said the percentage was determined by a scientific, random sampling of county welfare cases, employing a method used by large industries.

This .005% was interpeted by Nelson as indicating the statistical probability of one ineligible case in every 4,200 handled by county welfare offices during a six-month period.

Nelson attributed the remarkably low percentage to the "excellent job being done by county welfare offices" and "the basic honesty of Nebraska people in applying for public assistance."

Further Checks

County records are also checked by the department's field auditors to detect overpayments, underpayments and other deviations from state policy.

This statistical sampling is a "good management tool," he said.

Dr. George Taylor of Sidney was re-elected president of the Nebraska Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons as the group wound up their annual convention here Tuesday.

Representatives at the series of meetings emphasized their intentions to continue the drive for unlimited practice rights for osteopaths, but no formal resolution was passed to that effect.

The group also re-elected three other 1968 office holders. They were Dr. Eugene Brown of Nebraska City, vice president; Dr. Earl Purtzer of Scottsbluff, executive secretary, and Dr. A. G. Zuspan of Aurora, a member of the board of trustees.

Lincoln was selected as the site for the 1969 convention

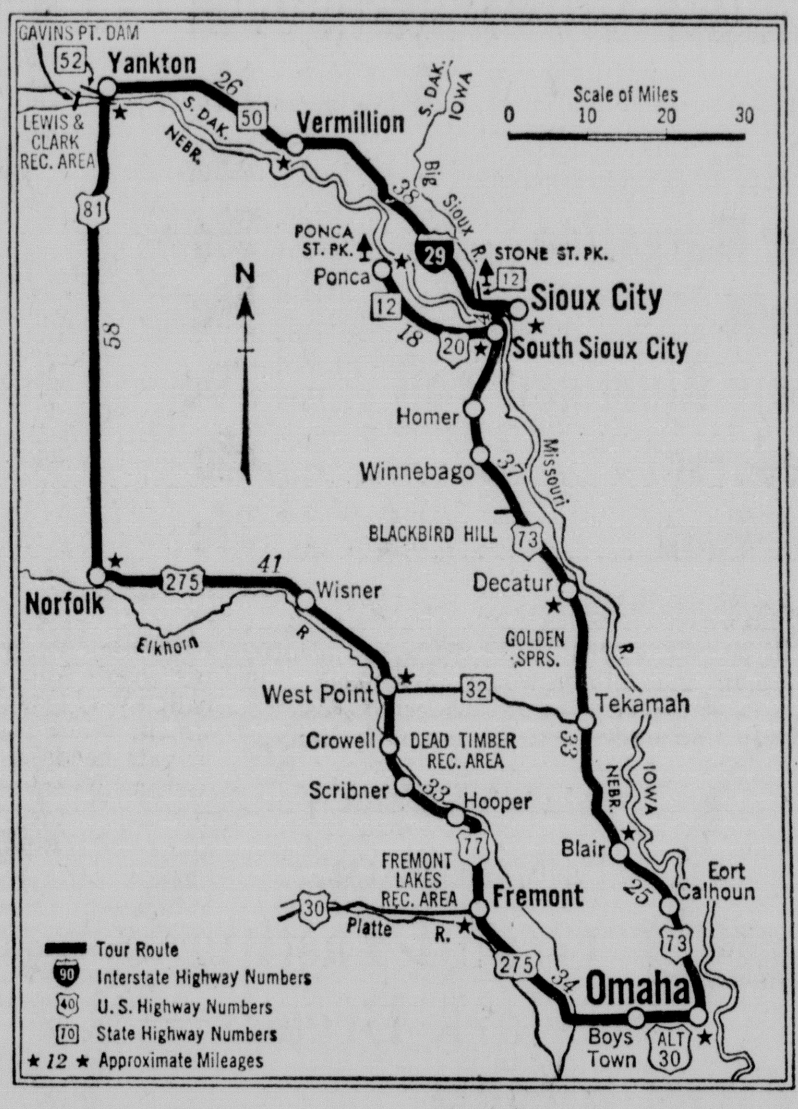
CLIP AND SAVE

Break the old routine with a close-to-home auto trip.

1. Along the wide Missouri to the land of Lewis and Clark.



Here is a fascinating excursion for a day or leisurely weekend. You'll follow former stagecoach routes and pioneer paths like the famous Overland Trail. You'll see forests, lakes, rolling prairies and dramatic river bluffs.

0m. OMAHA. From downtown, drive north on U.S. 73 which heads up 30th Street and bears away from the Missouri River. South of Fort Calhoun, river bluffs hide pioneer fort sites, including places used by Lewis and Clark in 1804. A fine place to snap pictures!

25m. BLAIR, above the mighty Missouri, is a trade center for Washington County. It is the home of DANA COLLEGE, and also the headquarters for the PAPIO SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT, first of its kind in the state. Farm country to the north blends into former Indian camping grounds around TEKAMAH, where Reservoir Hill affords broad panoramas of the Missouri Valley. Omaha Indian village and battle sites lie just a step away. Near GOLDEN SPRINGS, ridges mark the old stagecoach road. Continue north on U.S. 73 to...

58m. DECATUR. From here, U.S. 73 angles northwestward over wooded hills and bluffs through the old Omaha and Winnebago Indian domains. Little spur roads lead to legend-shrouded former bandit hideouts, remains of frontier homes and missions, and geological formations like BIG BEAR HOLLOW that looks like a rugged volcanic crater. Continue north on U.S. 73 to the Junction with U.S. 77 at Winnebago. Then continue north over the rolling hills to...

81m. HOMER. Drive through this small farm settlement to South Sioux City. Take U.S. 20 and Route 12 north to PONCA. PONCA STATE PARK offers a swimming pool and the opportunity for horseback riding over beautiful wooded trails. Return to South Sioux City and cross the Missouri into Iowa.

199m. YANKTON. The oldest community in the Dakota Territory, it was chosen as the Territorial Capital in 1861. You can see some of the early buildings as well as YANKTON COLLEGE, founded 20 years later. About four miles upstream on Route 52 stands GAVINS POINT DAM, forming LEWIS AND CLARK LAKE. There are recreation facilities along the lakeshore, and one of them—LEWIS AND CLARK RECREATION AREA—lies just west of U.S. 81 south of town. South of Yankton, U.S. 81 crosses the Missouri River back into Nebraska and heads south across grassy hills to...

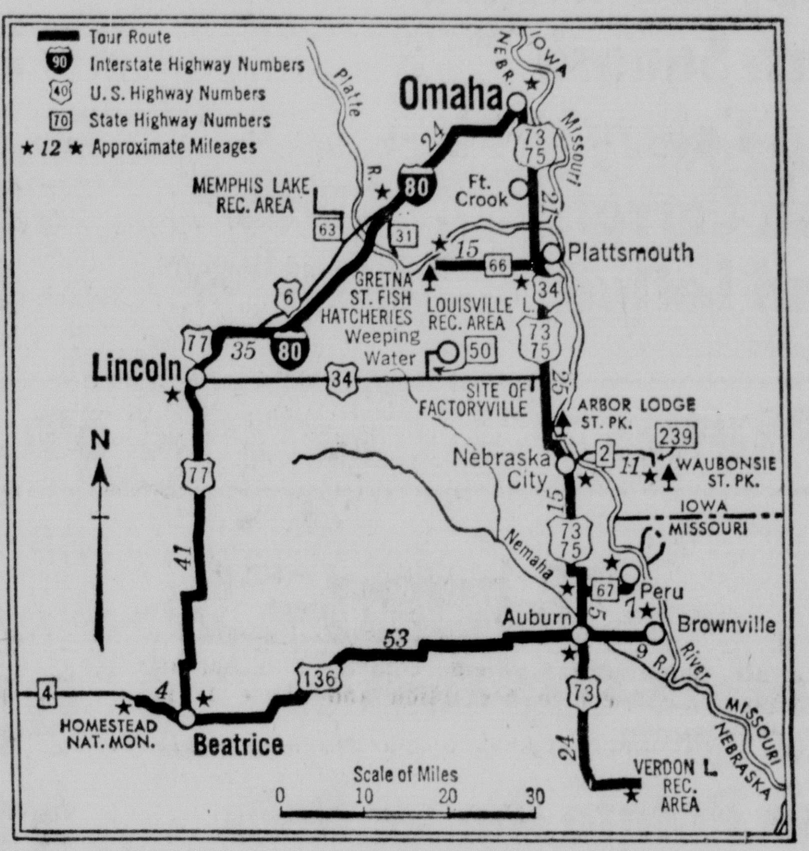
257m. NORFOLK, the thriving livestock center among the low hills of the Elkhorn River Valley. Some of the structures built by German pioneers still remain, and the NORFOLK HISTORICAL MUSEUM contains interesting relics of the region. City parks like JOHNSON and CENTRAL add both beauty and outdoor recreation. From Norfolk, head due east on U.S. 275 through cattle-raising country to Wisner, center for livestock feeding operations. Continue southeast along the Elkhorn River to...

298m. WEST POINT. In the old days Indian scares were common in this sawmill town. A little less than 10 miles south, near Crowell, lies DEAD TIMBER RECREATION AREA. The tour route continues on through Scribner and Hooper to join U.S. 77 twelve miles north of...

331m. FREMONT. Formerly an Overland Trail station, Fremont is noted as the state's hybrid seed corn center. It's also the home of MIDLAND LUTHERAN COLLEGE. For outdoor diversions, FREMONT LAKES RECREATION AREA, three miles west via U.S. 30, features an appealing section where one-fourth of its 800 acres is covered with water. From Fremont, U.S. 275 heads south along the Platte River to Alt. U.S. 30, which swings away to the east and goes past BOYS TOWN to...

365m. OMAHA.

2. A look at Lincoln, the charms of Beatrice, and Waubonsie State Park.



This trip takes you to a planetarium, museum, and even a herd of fossil elephants. Part of it lies along the Old West Trail, which you may wish to follow on your regular vacation. The Trail winds through Nebraska, Montana, the Dakotas and Wyoming.

0m. OMAHA. Follow Interstate 80 southwest. South of the highway on Route 31 is the GRETNA STATE FISH HATCHERIES. Continue on Int. 80 and U.S. 77 to...

59m. LINCOLN, the capital city. The UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, UNION COLLEGE and NEBRASKA WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY add outstanding points of call, including the SHELDON ART GALLERIES, STATE MUSEUM and MUELLER PLANETARIUM. The Planetarium features regular sky shows. The museum contains one of the world's foremost collections of modern and fossil elephants. The STATE CAPITOL is surmounted by a 32½-foot high bronze statue, The Sower. Of particular interest is the Supreme Court Chamber's ornate walnut ceiling and the rotunda's mosaic dome. The GOVERNOR'S MANSION may be inspected every Tuesday. Notable murals are found in the FIRST NATIONAL BANK and the PERSHING MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM. For fascinating displays of firearms, pioneer relics and Indian items, see the NEBRASKA STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY MUSEUM. Also inspect FAIRVIEW, where the William Jennings Bryan family lived. At ANTELOPE PARK you may see sunken gardens and the municipal zoo. PIONEER PARK has herds of deer, elk and buffalo. On leaving Lincoln, follow U.S. 77 (a fairly rough road) south to...

100m. BEATRICE, on the banks of the Big Blue River. Once a funnel town for frontier homesteaders, Beatrice is a busy agricultural and industrial center today. The old pioneer days are remembered in some of the city's structures and more emphatically, at the HOMESTEAD NATIONAL MONUMENT, four miles northwest via Route 4. This 160-acre preserve covers the first quarter-section, of 120,000,000 acres of land, claimed under the Homestead Act of 1862. Daniel Freeman was the settler. Here you'll find a pioneer cabin stocked with authentic frontier items, as well as a museum that displays early household equipment, tools, machinery and other relics. From Beatrice, U.S. 136 runs east over creeks and small rivers.

161m. AUBURN, just west of the Nemaha River, lies in the heart of the orchard country. Less than a half hour's drive south on U.S. 73 is the VERDON LAKE RECREATION AREA where your family can enjoy fishing, seasonal hunting, picnicking and camping. Another interesting side trip from Auburn takes you east on U.S. 136 to...

218m. BROWNVILLE. Once the most populous in the Nebraska territory, it vividly recreates its Victorian past. Restored examples of picturesque "steamboat" architecture include CARSON HOUSE (Adm. 25¢), FURNAS HOUSE, and the TIPTON-SMITH HOUSE. Residents dress in colorful 19th-century costumes during frequent weekend festivals. Return to Auburn via U.S. 136 and follow U.S. 73-75 north. Route 67 heads east to...

239m. PERU, a college town on bluffs above the river. Dominating the area is Pikes Peak. You may visit the first State teacher's college in Nebraska at Peru. Return to U.S. 73-75 and turn north to...

261m. NEBRASKA CITY, once a brawling, boisterous river town. A prime attraction is JOHN BROWN'S CAVE, or drive east on Route 2 across the Missouri for 11 miles into Iowa and WAUBONSIE STATE PARK, a scene of unusual beauty. Another top attraction is ARBOR LODGE HISTORICAL PARK on U.S. 75. Central feature is the 52-room mansion of J. Sterling Morton, who originated Arbor Day.

North of Nebraska City, U.S. 73-75 runs through hilly orchard country. U.S. 34 leads to such spots as WEEPING WATER, with a fascinating display of Indian relics said to date back as far as 1300 A.D., and the sites of once-booming but now long-gone pioneer towns like FACTORYVILLE. Continue north on U.S. 73-75 and 34 until you reach Route 66.

Now turn left on Route 66 for a pleasant side trip west 15 miles to LOUISVILLE LAKE RECREATION AREA along the Platte River. Here you can relax around five sand-pit lakes, and swim, fish or camp. Return to Plattsmouth, continue north on U.S. 73-75 across the Platte River and past FORT CROOK to...

337m. OMAHA.

Allies Would Respond To Soviet Intervention In Germany

Washington (AP) — Soviet military intervention in West Germany "would lead to an immediate allied response" in accordance with the North Atlantic Treaty, the State Department declared Tuesday.

Robert J. McCloskey, the department's spokesman, speaking on behalf of the U.S. government, made this statement commenting on a Soviet note of July 5 to West Germany.

There was no explanation of why the United States was responding now to the action taken more than two months ago.

Possibility Of Force

The Soviet note raised the possibility that under two articles of the U.N. Charter the Soviet Union could use force against the Federal Republic.

McCloskey's statement said that in the U.S. view, neither of the U.N. Charter articles "nor the two together give the Soviet Union or other Warsaw Pact members any right to intervene by force unilaterally in the Federal Republic of Germany."

"If despite this the Soviet Union or other Warsaw Pact members should intervene by force unilaterally in the Federal Republic, that act would lead to an immediate allied response in form of self-defense measures pursuant to the North Atlantic Treaty.

"There can be no question of the validity of the North Atlantic Treaty under the U.N. Charter."

The State Department, McCloskey said, has communicated its view to the German foreign ministry in Bonn.

The July 5 Soviet note was handed to Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger by Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin. It was the last in a series of exchanges between West Germany and the Soviet Union on mutual renunciation of force.

'Enforcement Action'

The two articles referred to in the Soviet note deal with "enforcement action" which can be undertaken by the United Nations to maintain peace.

No such enforcement action shall be carried out without the authorization of the U.N. Security Council, Article 53 says, "with the exception of measures against any enemy state . . . against renewal of aggressive policy on the part of any such state."

Enemy states, the same article specifies, are those which, during World War II, were enemies of the signatories of the U.N. Charter.

The West German government has termed the Soviet-cited provisions of the U.N. Charter "obsolete" and American specialists agree.

Vienna, Austraia (AP) — "Due to the August events," the Communist euphenism for the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia, the 5th International Jazz Festival scheduled for Prague has been canceled, the Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported.

U.S. Troops Will Join Allies For Maneuvers

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said Tuesday that some 20,000 to 40,000 American troops will participate in allied military maneuvers in Europe early next year, with some of them being sent from this country.

He told newsmen the schedule for the maneuvers had been advanced and that some extra U.S. forces would be in Europe ready to participate early in 1969.

Newsmen understood Clifford to say that 20,000 to 40,000 additional troops would be sent to Europe sooner than originally scheduled. But a Pentagon spokesman for the secretary said later that Clifford meant to say that number of American troops would be involved in such an exercise—and not that many would be going from the United States.

Temporary Forces

The secretary said the addition of forces would be temporary and did not represent any U.S. plan to increase its combat strength in Europe as a result of the invasion of Czechoslovakia by the Soviet Union and other Warsaw Pact countries.

This country earlier withdrew 34,000 men from Europe for reassignment in the United States with the understanding they would return for the exercixes.

Clifford said the exercises would be held in member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Troop Withdrawal

In another area, Clifford was asked about Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's prediction that withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam could begin late this year or early next year.

"There is general agreement that American troops will stay there as long as they are needed," Clifford replied. He noted, however, that President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam has said that some U.S. forces might be able to leave sometime during 1969.

Clifford said he did not think that North Vietnam negotiators in the Paris peace talks were holding up progress in hopes the presidential election would lead to a change in U.S. policies.

Dr. Young Elected By Salt Valley

Dr. J. O. Young, chairman of the University of Nebraska Department of Horticulture and Forestry, Tuesday was elected president of the board of directors of the Salt Valley Watershed District.

He will fill out the unexpired term of conservationist Otto H. Liebers, 80, a former state senator who has presided over the board since the district was formed by law some eight years ago.

Liebers retired as president because of illness and was named president emeritus. He has worked since 1947 for full-scale watershed development in the Salt Valley.

Praise for his years of service and hopes for a successful convalescence were included in a resolution of gratitude to Liebers.

Board attorney Robert Crosby noted "the unique and matchless contribution that Otto H. Liebers has made to resource conservation not only in our region, but in the nation."

Vice president Kenny Weaver of Raymond said that largely because of Lieber's efforts, "We have an organization here that is being copied all over the country."

Young, chairman of the district's future planning committee, commented that it is with difficulty that he takes over the post of president. "The district was brushed by greatness in the person of Otto Liebers," he said.

Efforts of Liebers to stem the flooding and loss of land in the valley date back more than 20 years.

It was at Lieber's dairy farm south of Lincoln that he and fellow farmers met initially on May 20, 1947, and created a committee known as the Upper Salt Creek Farmers Committee. Ensuing activity resulted in the Salt Valley Watershed District.

Models in the show include both practical and theoretical devices.

Among the exhibits are a paddle-wheel ship, a theoretical gear system, a device for determining the tensile strength of wire and an ornithopter flying machine whose principle support and propulsion comes from flapping wings.

Funeral Services Thursday For John Loder Of Waverly

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Waverly Methodist Church for John Loder, lifetime Lancaster County resident, who died Monday at the age of 84.

The Loder family was honored with a Pioneer Family Award in 1957 and in 1967 was honored again during Centennial celebrations.

Mr. Loder attended Wesleyan University and graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Law in 1917.

He was elected to the order of COIF, an honorary law fraternity.

A member of Waverly Methodist Church, he was a former member of the Lincoln Cathedral Choir and past master of the Capitol View Pomona Grange.

Mr. Loder served a number of terms on both the Waverly School Board and the Waverly Elevator Board.

Survivors include his wife, Emma; son, the Rev. Fred E. of Bellevue, and grandchildren, John, William, Paul and Lois, all of Bellevue.

Voters At Lyons OK Special Liquor Issue

Lincoln Star Special

Lyons — Residents of this community Tuesday approved a special liquor-by-the drink proposal. The vote was 286 for, 205 against. Twelve mail ballots will not affect the outcome.

Mayor Floyd A. Cropper explained the town "did not vote to put liquor on sale in the corporate limits of the city."

The issue, the mayor said, is the first step towards acquisition of a $75,000 steakhouse for the area, to be built on land adjacent to the town, not restricted under the town's no-liquor clause.

If a Class C liquor license is okayed for the proposed steakhouse, the land on which it is to be built will be annexed to the City of Lyons, Mayor Cropper stated.

Liquor has never been legally permitted in this town because the founder of Lyons disapproved and abstracts on nearly all property forbade possession or dispensation of beer, wine and hard liquor.

Tuesday's issue was placed on the ballot by petition.

Dennis Morgan of Homer previously informed the Lyons Council he intends to build the steakhouse if the liquor issue won approval.

Tabitha Will Begin Expansion On Own

. . . AID EXPECTED LATER

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Tabitha Home, a long-term care facility at 48th and Randolph, Tuesday announced it is going to proceed with construction of its $1.3 million addition without an allocation of federal Hill-Burton funds.

"Tabitha has chosen to initiate construction of their new nursing home to preclude further delay in completing the project," members of the Lincoln Health and Hospital Council were told.

In advancing the construction date, Tabitha will forfeit any federal matching funds for money expended prior to release of the Hill-Burton allocations, it was pointed out.

But the nursing home project then will obtain a "pick up" matching allocation for the amount to be expended following the release of the funds.

Allocation Assumed

Tabitha is assuming forfeited monies will be allocated to Madonna Home, which applied for the Hill-Burton money jointly with Tabitha.

"We hope to have contracts with construction firms by sometime in October," administrator Harold Norby said after the meeting.

The nursing home has enough money available to begin work on the 100-bed addition. The long-term space is "critically needed" in the city, it was reported.

Hill-Burton monies have been frozen at the federal level for some time, and the joint application of Tabitha and Madonna Homes was not given top priority by the State Hospital and Medical Facilities Advisory Council for the $437,000 in available funds.

Amount Estimated

State health hospital division chief Verne Pangborn estimated last June, when priorities were assigned, that the joint Lincoln project would get between $50,000 and $100,000 from the 1968 allocation.

But closer estimates on the Lincoln share would not be available until top priority projects' contracts had been signed, possibly in October, he had indicated.

The combined Hill-Burton application sought $486,000 for Tabitha and $648,960 for Madonna's proposed $1.6 million replacement facility providing 120 beds, nine more than it currently has.

The Hospital and Health Council endorsed the nursing homes' plans and agreed to report to the State Advisory Council that the decision is "further evidence of the continuity of this community's unit plan."

Contact Approved

In other action Tuesday council members approved a plan to contact officials in the 17 southeastern Nebraska counties surrounding Lancaster County to initiate organization for comprehensive health planning.

The contacts, it was decided, should be accomplished through Vision 17 — the southeastern Nebraska promotion council.

In order to qualify for a comprehensive health planning grant, the Lincoln council should consider expanding its present one-county area of responsibility, Public Health Service officials suggested.

Joint Decision

The intent of the council resolution is to ask that representatives from the 17-county area jointly determine what a feasible health planning area would be, according to council director Mike Higgins.

Contact with persons in the 17 counties, it was agreed, would relate the provisions of the new federal legislation, "note the planning experience and success" of the Lincoln council and invite appropriate individuals to meet with council members to organize similar planning organizations in the outlying areas.

Representatives meeting with Lincoln council members also would "evaluate the feasibility of establishing liaison with some or all of the outlying counties for purposes of applying for a two-year organizational planning grant."

Council members also endorsed the proposal to fluoridate Lincoln water that will be included on the November ballot and expanded its board to 48 members, including representatives of mental health, local government and minority groups.

Barnett To Speak

Robert E. Barnett, counselor to Governor Norbert Tiemann, will speak at the noon meeting of the Sertoma Club on Thursday at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Police said a switchblade knife and a knife with a four-inch blade were found in Hoffman's pocket.

Better Lincoln Committee May Expand Scope

The Better Lincoln Committee (BLC), for the last eight years a private research and advisory organization in the area of housing, might become an action-oriented agency depending on a vote of its membership next week.

The basis for the proposed new course is a request by the Lincoln Action Program that the BLC submit a proposal for a housing program to be financed by a grant of $19,000 from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), dependent upon the community's furnishing 20% of the budget in goods, services or cash.

A recent meeting of the executive committee of the BLC resulted in a call for the entire committee membership to approve or reject the concept at its Sept. 26 annual meeting.

Neighborhood Improvement

The proposal under consideration is a neighborhood improvement program to be carried out in areas of poverty concentration selected by the Lincoln Action Program.

Basically, this would be a one-year experiment in community organization with as much internal motivation as possible in determining not only the content but the pace of the program.

The immediate objectives would be to accomplish environmental improvement through self-help efforts of homeowners, tenants and landlords in the area and to achieve some demonstration projects in rehabilitation, new construction and repairs of housing through voluntary cooperation of community organizations, trade groups and the City of Lincoln.

A neighborhood council, composed of a representative selection of the people who reside in the area, would be organized to determine the scope and pace of the program, evaluate its results, make recommendations for communtiy action and serve as spokesman to and for the people in the neighborhood.

According to the BLC, funds appropriated to the project would be used to establish a project office located in the heart of the area and available to all residents and property owners to assist them in intitiating and carrying out self-improvement programs.

The tasks of the BLC, if it accepts the proposal, would be executive in nature.

Responsiblity

It would monitor the project as it unfolds, keep the community at large informed on its progress, recruit community resources, assist the neighborhood council in making its needs known and its position understood and, finally, accept full fiscal responsibility for the operation of the project.

The Neighborhood project office would be staffed with two or more people capable of:

—Providing referral in many areas beyond the scope of the project, such as remedial education, employment services, health and vocational rehabilitation, welfare, recreation, legal aid and information on the rights of the poor and consumer information and aid.

—Carrying on a constant educational experience including classes in home management and "do-it-yourself" improvement programs.

— Making actual on-site inspections of housing when invited to do so.

Second Largest City In Jordan Is Shelled

© New York Times Service

Jerusalem — Israeli long-range artillery shelled Irbid, Jordan's second largest city, Tuesday morning in response to what military sources here described as a new and dangerous escalation of Arab terrorist warfare.

The brief bombardment of the Jordanian urban center followed a rocket attack Monday night against Reit Shean, a city of 12,000 persons five miles from the Israeli border in the upper Jordan valley.

Israeli military experts in Tel Aviv said the Arab attack was launched by Al-Fatah terrorists. The experts said the rockets used in the attack were of a type employed by Syrian and Egyptian armed forces, which arm Al-Fatah, but were not part of the Jordanian arsenal.

Monday night's shelling, which wounded eight civilians in Beit Shean, was the first Arab attack on any civilian concentration in that area since June 4 and the first ever against Beit Shean.

The Israelis said Tuesday's 12-mile shelling of Irbid, now swollen with tens of thousands of refugees, was brief. They said only four shells were dropped into the town to remind the Jordanians that they were as vulnerable as the Israelis.

Military sources recalled that an artillery and aerial attack against Irbid on June 4 prompted the regular Jordanian forces to persuade the Al-Fatah organization operating in that area to refrain from shelling the settlements along the Jordan River.

In the last month there have been 84 incidents of shelling and small arms fire in the border area. Five soldiers died during that period and 26 soldiers and 12 civilians were wounded.

Monday night's attack, the Israelis said, was significant because it was the first use of the Czechoslovak-made 130mm rockets by Al-Fatah and the possible opening of attacks against urban centers.

When Defense Minister Moshe Dayan visited Beit Shean Tuesday morning during the Israeli bombardment of Irbid, he was met with demands for shelters such as those being built in the valley settlements. Townspeople also shouted demands for revenge.

Radio Jordan Tuesday reported that three persons were injured when the Israelis dropped five shells into the city.

New Effort To End Strike Rebuffed

New York (AP) — A new effort by School Supt. Bernard E. Donovan to end a citywide teachers' strike was angrily rebuffed Tuesday by Rhody A. McCoy, Negro administrator of a Brooklyn school district.

McCoy accused Donovan of collusion with Albert Shanker, president of the striking AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers.

Shanker, saying he saw "no agreement on anything of substance," called for around-the-clock negotiations to end the strike which has kept most of the city's 1.1 million pupils out of class for five of the first seven days of the fall term.

The teachers struck over job security they felt was threatened by decentralization of the huge school system — giving more power to neighborhood school boards.

The lines have been drawn over the ouster last spring of a group of teachers in McCoy's Ocean Hill-Brownsville District, which triggered a walkout by their colleagues in the district. Since the spring walkout, the local board has replaced a number of the teachers involved. The UFT has demanded that they be returned to their class rooms.

Donovan directed McCoy Tuesday to reinstate 100 teachers in the mostly Negro and Puerto Rican district and to guarantee a quiet atmosphere for teaching.

McCoy fired back at a news conference that Donovan and Shanker were trying to dictate a settlement and said he would not accept it if it cost him his job.

Maple Village
Eastborough

suburbia

Suburban residents are getting into the swing of things now that the fall football season officially has begun. The Cornhuskers' delivery of a victory over the Wyoming Cowboys by three points was a thrilling and hopeful prediction for the coming season — especially for the many Lincoln people who will be having hordes of out-of-town guests for the home game.

Speaking of out-of-town guests and the game, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thomsen in Maple Village had out-of-state game guests. Mr. and Mrs. Mel Davidson and their son, Matt, came all of the way from San Mateo, Calif., to see our Cornhuskers win on Saturday and to visit with Mrs. Davidson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomsen.

The Davidsons arrived in Lincoln on Thursday, Sept. 12, and although they are visiting many relatives, they are the house guests of Mrs. Davidson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sayles Thompsen, for 10 days.

Other football fans, this time from Kearney, are Mr. and Mrs. Terry Kramer who were the guests of Mrs. Kramer's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Hill, for the Saturday game.

Of course football isn't the only thing Lincoln people are interested in although it was hard to tell on Saturday with everyone wearing red hats, coats and dresses decorated with white carnations and a big red "N." Obviously the football fever season has begun.

One thing that sparks everyone's interest is wedding preparations, and preparing to be in a wedding is just what Mrs. Larry Owen is doing. She will be the matron of honor at the wedding of her cousin, Miss Roberta Kinyoun to Doug Kissinger of Fairfield on November 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen complimented the bride-elect last Thursday evening when they entertained at their home. Miss Kinyoun recently returned to her home in Clay Center after teaching in the Los Angeles, Calif. school system for two years.

Eastborough mothers have been busy getting children off to school, re-arranging their schedules to meet the fall activities, and starting the ever-popular pastime of morning coffee klatches.

Birthday parties are always occasions which require a lot of planning and preparation for suburban homemakers, but Mrs. Jerry McDonald didn't have to prepare food or decorations for the birthday party she attended Monday, Sept. 16.

The party was honoring her husband's birthday and the celebration was held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Adams of Holdrege.

Many of our suburban residents have relatives from California visiting them this month. Maybe the sunny California weather gets a little too warm and sunny after an entire summer of it. Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Wright of Orange, Calif., were the guests of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schroeder last week. Mr. and Mrs. Wright arrived in Lincoln on Saturday, Sept. 7 and left to visit other relatives on Thursday, Sept. 12.

Before leaving Lincoln the visitors were honored at a dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder were host and hostesses at their home on Sunday, Sept. 8. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roland Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hissong of Council Bluffs and Miss Claudia Johnson.

Attendants Named

This morning Miss Elizabeth Ocken, whose marriage to Larry G. Niemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elden Niemann of Utica, will take place on Saturday, Sept. 21, announces the members of the bridal party this morning.

As her matron of honor the bride-elect has chosen her sister, Mrs. Terry Wright, and her bridesmaids will be her sisters, Miss Barbara Ocken and Miss Pamela Ocken and Miss Monica Ayoub of Grand Island. Mrs. Paul Addleman will be the bridesmatron.

Robert Niemann will serve his brother as best man, and the groomsmen will be Duane Kingston, Clayton Winkelman, Neal Nicolaus and Roger Ward. Seating the guests will be Douglas Ocken, brother of the bride; Roger Niemann, brother of the bridegroom; Terry Wright and Gary Ehlers.

The wedding will take place at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, in Staplehurst, and solemnizing the ceremony will be the Rev. Ingolf Larsen of Wawatosa, Wis., assisted by the Rev. Osborn Reeb.

Miss Ocken, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Ocken of Seward, is a former student at Kearney State College, but will continue her studies in home economics at the University of Nebraska this year.

Mr. Niemann has attended the University of Nebraska, and now is serving in the Armed Forces.

A Long, Long Time Between Visits

There are approximately five thousand miles between Lincoln, Neb., and Manchester, England, and for Mrs. Dalton Cyr and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee of Manchester, there has been a gap of 20 years between visits. For Mr. Lee it had been 21 years since he last saw his daughter. That was when she left the family home in England to come to the United States as a bride in 1947. The following year Mrs. Lee made the trip to the States to help celebrate her daughter's 21st birthday. Since then the visiting has been done by mail.

But Mr. and Mrs. Lee are here—the guests of their son-in-law and daughter and the four grandchildren whom they have known only by pictures.

They've had a good time, all of them, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee will be able to tell their neighbors back home about Nebraska football—they went to the game last Saturday. They will be returning to England before long, but they will have many, many memories.

Adult Coeds On The Campus

When you picture a college coed today, it usually means the glamorous campus queen or the long-haired rebel in dungarees. But there is a new third force emerging on the contemporary campus scene: the adult coed.

According to Dr. Laurine E. Fitzgerald, assistant dean of students and professor of administration and higher education, Michigan State University, East Lansing, the adult coed is the woman "who has interrupted the continuous educational pattern characterizing the college student of today," returning to the campus to "learn new skills or update skills to compete for employment with the nation's youth."

In a study of the goals and characteristics of mature college women, Dr. Fitzgerald surveyed 650 women "returnees" at three north central U.S. universities and with a 60 percent return was able to sketch a profile of the "typical adult coed."

The adult coed is married, has interrupted her education for an average of eight years, is between the ages of 35 and 39, and has some previous college work in her educational background. She has two or three children with the youngest in elementary school and the oldest nearing the age when he will be leaving for college or employment.

Immediate employment is Mrs. Coed's goal, and she expects to earn from $4,000 to $9,000 per year. Employment is not a financial necessity for her — it relates more to "considerations revolving around her self concept or providing additional benefits for her family. Teaching is the most common goal of the mature coed, although social work, nursing, merchandising, secretarial work and communications are popular."

Her husband, who has a bachelor's degree, is employed in the professions or semi-professions, and is in his early forties, has encouraged her initially in this activity and has continued to express interest. The "children have been enthusiastic about the change in status of their mother and there are some indications that the older children take a greater interest in their own academic work. Vocational planning and exploration as a family discussion topic seems to be a natural result of the mother's return to the campus."

Parties For Bride-Elect

The remainder of the current month is dotted generously with courtesies for one of the October brides-elect, Miss Donna Glascock whose marriage to Donald Katt will take place on Oct. 12.

The first of the series of parties for the soon-to-be bride is on Tuesday evening, Sept. 17, when Mrs. Harold Krieger and Mrs. Robert Beaty will be a hostess at the home of Mrs. Krieger. Mrs. Krieger has invited guests for an informal evening, and a miscellaneous shower for the honoree.

Next Sunday afternoon Miss Glascock will again be honored when her fiance's aunts, Mrs. John Katt, Mrs. Edna Ihde and Mrs. Fred Heidtbrink, entertain at the home of Mrs. Heidtbrink. The 2 o'clock party also will include a miscellaneous shower for the bride-to-be.

On the other side of that particular weekend — Monday, Sept. 23 Miss Glascock will be complimented by Mrs. Joe Mesa who has invited guests for a luncheon and a lingerie shower at her home.

The last of the September courtesies for the bride-elect will include an evening party on Saturday, Sept. 28, when the hostesses will be Mrs. Del Wolfe and Mrs. Donald Buehler. During the evening Miss Glascock will be presented with a linen shower — And on Monday, Sept. 30, there is to be a picnic which has been planned by Miss Glascock's co-workers at the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Another of the October brides-elect is Miss Mary K. Koch who also has chosen Saturday, Oct. 5 for her marriage to Steven L. Atkins.

On Friday evening Miss Koch will be the guest of honor when Mrs. Harry Koch will be a shower hostess at her home.

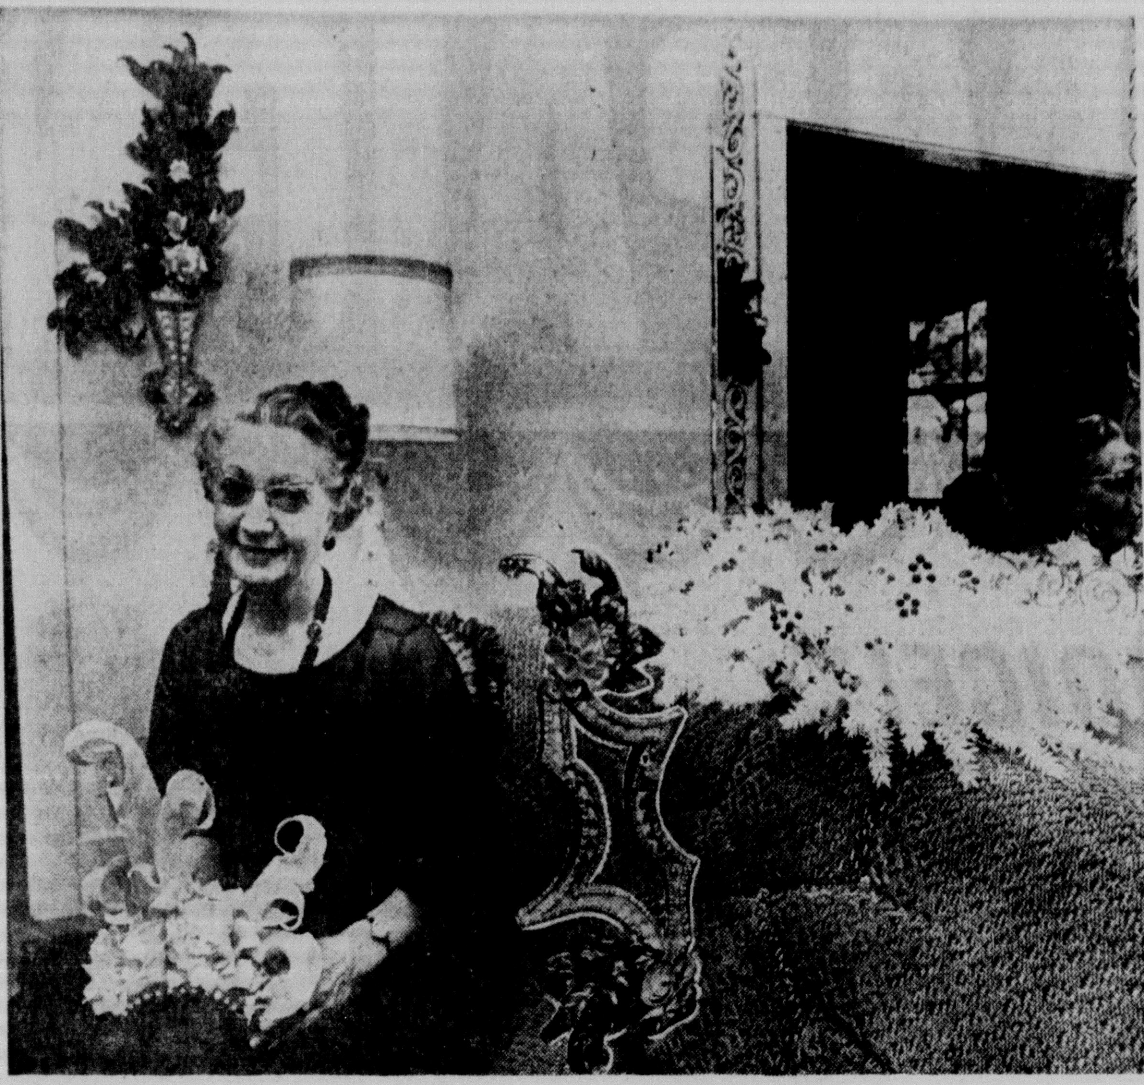
An Ingenious Lady And Her Hobby



During the years Americans have acquired a reputation for being extremely ingenious people, and Mrs. John Heine is no exception. Mrs. Heine has mixed salt, cornstarch and water, shaped the mixture into objects, painted it with spray paint or fingernail polish and created artificial flowers, butterflies and vases out of it as a hobby.

Mrs. Heine started her hobby six or seven years ago after getting the mixture reciepe out of a women's magazine. Since she had arranged artificial plastic flowers for many years, she started by trying to create a flower arrangement. She was so pleased by her first attempt at the flowers that she began to make picture frames, vases and wall plaques.

Mrs. Heine makes each petal or leaf individually and colors it before attaching it to the flower stem. When the entire project is complete she shellacs it. In her basement our ceramics artist has a work table and several cupboards used to store her projects. But she sometimes works upstairs in the living room "on cold winter nights."

Although Mrs. Heine has given many of her creations to friends and relatives, she has never sold any. "Anybody who is an artist never sells anything if they can get out of it, so I must be an artist because I've never sold anything," Mrs. Heine comments.

Mr. and Mrs. Heine's home which is filled with her arrangements both of plastic flowers and her hand-molded creations has been visited by many people to see her work, Mrs. Heine adds.

October Bride-Elect Honored

While many of us are thinking that now that autumn is here and of all of the activity that has to do with town, campus and football stadiums, there is one element of the population that already has its social calendar well organized. That element includes the October brides-elect.

One of these brides-elect is Miss Carrol Stevens whose marriage to Larry Pierce will take place on Saturday, Oct. 5. Miss Stevens was the guest of honor at a shower last Sunday when Miss Carol Kolb, Miss Cathy Will and Miss Debby Litchy were hostesses at the VFW Club.

Miss Stevens will be complimented again next Sunday when Miss Lynn Robare and Miss Carrol Brundige are hostesses at the home of Miss Robare.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently invited a life-long friend and her husband to a dinner party. I knew her little 4-year-old grandson was staying with her while his parents were vacationing, but I purposely did not mention the child.

Then she told me that she was bringing her grandson! Now, Abby, this woman is a millionairess, and she could afford to hire a dozen baby-sitters.

I said it was going to be an "adult" party, and I emphasized "ADULT" so she would get the hint, but she ignored it. Well, she brought the boy, which didn't help my dinner party any. In fact, it ruined it. I don't dislike children, Abby. I have grandchildren of my own, but I don't allow them to attend my dinner parties.

What would you have done in a case like this?

FURIOUS WITH HER

DEAR FURIOUS: I probably would have done just as you did — once. But not twice. You are really "furious" with yourself because you lacked the courage to ask your life-long friend to please leave her grandson at home.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN A FOG ABOUT MODERN ART": It's a crowded fog you're in. "One should no more try to understand art than one should try to understand the song of a bird." (PICASSO)

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Opening lead — jack of hearts.

Practically all of the top players play poppa-mama bridge, which is another way of saying that they maintain their status as the best in the business not by frequent brilliancies, but rather by unerring precision in every type situation imaginable.

They follow the principle that bridge is primarily a game of logic, and that all that is necessary to play well is to reason well.

Robert Jordan and Arthur Robinson, of Philadelphia, once again proved their preeminence in bridge during the 1968 Olympiad. Their style of bidding is basically natural, but on this hand from the U.S.-Thailand match they made at least two bids that could be called artificial.

Playing weak two bids, except for two clubs which was artificial and forcing, Jordan opened fourth hand with two clubs. Robinson made a negative response of two diamonds, though his high-card values were almost good enough for a positive response.

Robinson then raised Jordan's two spade bid to three, and over three notrump started to compensate for his previous negative response by first bidding four diamonds over three notrump and next bidding five hearts over four spades.

It thus became clear to Jordan that North had the ace of diamonds and king of hearts, and accordingly, he contracted for a slam, easily made after ruffing a club in dummy.

It is true that North-South together have only 29 high-card points and no void or singleton to compensate for the 33 points frequnetly required for a slam. But with 29 points consisting mainly of aces and kings, and a six-card suit to boot, the slam was virtually laydown.

The Thai North-South pair failed to reach the slam when their bidding went:

A Beauty Hint

Margaret Merril advises that it is quite simple for every woman to promote an English countryside complexion. Her hint to gain a peaches-and-cream loveliness is to damp a cloth with cold water from your refrigerator and press it over your face for a few minutes once or twice a day. Then, to hold the good of the complexion-beautifying cold water, smooth on tropical oil of Olay. This oil is rather scarce and expensive, but your drug store should be able to get you a supply.

More Downpours Alarm River Valley

London (AP) — New downpours set off alarm signals throughout the Thames River Valley Tuesday. Some West London suburbs are among the areas hardest hit by flooding in southeast England.

British army troops were out in force for the third day with helicopters and amphibious vehicles.

The casualty list so far: Two women swept away by floodwaters and a man who died of a heart attack, all in the early hours of the disaster.

1,000 Troops

With six major rivers at their danger levels, more than 1,000 troops were sandbagging their banks at low spots.

Army amphibious vehicles evacuated hundreds of persons from flooded homes. They were taken to hotels and schools on higher ground.

Insurance companies said they have already received claims totaling more than $2.4 million and the floodwaters have only begun to subside in a few localities.

General Alert

Emergency processing centers for claims have been set up to provide policy holders with urgently needed funds.

A general alert was sounded throughout Cambridgeshire as the Cam River overflowed its banks. The muddy waters were reported advancing slowly on the ancient university city.

Army rescue teams were helping villagers along the course of the Cam.

Police and rescue workers reported some improvement in Kent and Sussex, the two counties which were worst hit in the opening stages Sunday and Monday.

Directors Of Vision-17 Duck Hot Issues Again

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Auburn — For the second time, directors of Vision-17 have balked at taking a stand on two hot potato issues handed them by one of their own committees.

Postponed until an Oct. 15 meeting at Plattsmouth were decisions on whether to back revenue bond financing of highways and the consolidation of counties. Affirmative stands on both matters were also urged last month by the group's Community Facilities Advisory Council.

Larry Heeren, chairman of the professionally-structured council, defended his group's reasoning on these and two noncontroversial recommendations. The latter two, proposing a regional transportation study and multi-county meetings to coordinate road improvements, were endorsed unanimously.

Deeply Committed

"This organization is deeply committed to economic development, and a better transportation network would contribute to this," said Heeren. "We have to assume some leadership."

Although there were several statements of support for both postponed recommendations, there was hesitation to take an immediate stand which might lack support among the general membership. Butler County directors Everett McCracken and Lester Souba particularly urged a second look at the proposals.

"I have always been strictly against getting in debt in Nebraska," McCracken said, veteran David City leader, "and this highway bond issue could really get us head-over-heels in trouble."

Interest Less

Bond proponents countered that interest on an issue would amount to less than delayed construction would cost in inflationary price rises. They also labeled it "ridiculous" that towns can float large school bond issues while state financing is severely limited.

"We are going to step on someone's toes with any policy, but we will lose more by not doing anything," warned Gene Ely of Auburn.

Consultant Dave Carson added that unless controversial issues are discussed, "we're going to have a dead organization." Eventually, he said, "some kind of recommendation" should be forthcoming.

Medical Services

Also slated for the Plattsmouth meeting is the appearance of a citizens' group which will ask Vision-17 to look into area medical services. Announced were preliminary plans for the annual banquet meeting and ladies' night, to be in Lincoln either Nov. 19 or 26.

Manager George Felsch reported that two industrial prospects, contemplating employments of 150 and 400, are "still actively looking at our area." Treasurer Tom Aron of Crete presided.

Greeting the directors on behalf of the host city was Mayor Ervin Schneider.

World's Finest Bourbon a 173-Year-Old Secret

CHICAGO, ILL.—Before you can call yourself the world's finest anything—you'd better have a case in your favor.

Jim Beam Bourbon has that "case."

The whole matter started with Jacob Beam—who would be 200 years old this year—and a secret he discovered.

The secret, in the case of Jim Beam Bourbon, goes back to 1795, and it is still hush-hush today. The secret lay in the heart of Kentucky where there was, and is today, the right combination for pleasure. The right land. The right climate: the perfect Bourbon formula.

In north central Kentucky, Jacob Beam found clean iron-free water—water that came from limestone springs considered the very finest. Beam set out to ma Bourbon in this rolling co and he add his own pride.

Doane Dormitory Bidding Said Won By Lincoln Firms

Crete — M. W. Anderson Construction Co. of Lincoln was the apparent low bidder on the general contract to build a new women's dormitory on the Doane College campus.

E. J. Pallett, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee of the board of trustees, said the firm entered a bid of $404,474. He said Reinhardt Brothers of Lincoln entered the apparent low bid for the mechanical contract at $152,599. Gregg Electric, also of Lincoln, entered the low bid of $56,682 for the electrical contract.

The total cost of the project is expected to be about $690,000, Pallett said.

Pallett said, "Ground is expected to be broken in just a few days. This new dormitory will be ready for occupancy by September, 1969. With rooms for 150 more coeds, this new dormitory will alleviate a great need on our campus."

Candidates Said Using 'Code Words' For Racial Bigotry

Washington (UPI) — The Fair Campaign Practices Committee expressed concern Tuesday over "code words" for racial bigotry that are cropping up frequently in the 1968 presidential campaign.

Among the suspect phrases is "law and order," which both Republican and Democratic National Conventions ducked in drafting their 1968 platforms because of complaints it had acquired anti-Negro overtones.

Other euphemisms attracting committee attention, staff director Samuel J. Archibald said, include "crime in the streets" and "busing" as related to the transfer of school children from one area to another.

"Candidates who would never use the word 'nigger' nor any of its slurring variations are using other terms which apparently carry a similar connotation," a committee document says. "They are using the racial shorthand in areas of the country where an outright expression of racism would bring immediate social — and political — ostracism."

The committee, a nonpartisan group, hears and airs complaints of unfair campaign tactics. It seeks pledges from candidates that such tactics will not be used. This year, for the first time, it has arranged for impartial arbitration of complaints where both contenders agree.

The committee chairman, Charles P. Taft, in an Aug. 8 letter to major foundations, said the committee now needs guidelines on dealing with hidden appeals to racist sentiment. He sought funds to finance a study of "campaign code words — the current shorthand of racial bigotry."

President's Son

Taft, a Cincinnati lawyer and Republican, is the son of former President William Howard Taft and brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

So far no foundation has offered the money. However, an outline of the proposed study, prepared by Archibald and submitted to the foundations by Taft, indicates that some preliminary findings have already been made.

"Sophisticated political observers realize that 'crime in the streets' refers to Negro crime," according to the study-outline; "That 'Your home is your castle' refers to Negro pressures for open housing; that 'school busing' refers to racial integration of suburban schools."

American Independent Party candidate George Wallace is the only candidate mentioned by name as a "code word" offender in the committee's study outline. However, the outline says Wallace "certainly is not alone" among the candidates for major office in the use of racial euphemisms in campaign oratory and literature.

Proposed Percentage Basis For Fuel Tax Is Opposed

By ROBERT BERG
United Press International

State Tax Commissioner Murrel B. McNeil said Tuesday a host of difficulties would be involved in collecting motor fuel taxes on a percentage basis rather than a fixed rate.

McNeil said the difficulties "should be considered in examining the validity" of a proposal to change the state's motor fuel taxes to a percentage basis.

The vice chairman of the Nebraska Highway Advisory Commission, Thane Davis, has suggested the motor fuel tax rate should be assessed on a percentage of the motor fuel price, rather than the current flat 7½ cents per gallon. Outgoing State Engineer John Hossack also has endorsed the plan.

McNeil defended the current fixed rate setup as the most workable type.

Definite Rate

"The characteristic of a good tax is that its rate be definite and its yield predictable," he said. Nebraska's fuel tax laws now are definite as to rate, and their yields can be projected accurately."

"A percentage rate would be very difficult for the retailer, as well as for the state, to administer," McNeil said. He said gasoline prices vary frequently and the tax also would vary frequently.

"Accordingly, certain petroleum products users would be paying more in highway support simply because they purchased petroleum products from a different person within a town, or in a different area of the state," McNeil said.

McNeil also said auditing the tax returns of gasoline stations "would be very difficult." The commissioner said "instead of being responsible for auditing some 980 petroleum products wholesalers, the tax commissioner's office would be responsible for auditing some 3,000 petroleum products accounts."

McNeil said his office has had very little trouble collecting the current tax from wholesalers. "Thus the state is deriving the full measure of the tax, and audit is a manageable process with relatively few auditors," he said.

Tax Would Vary

The tax commissioner said discounts are given on prices of Diesel fuel and gasoline to some interstate truckers. If the tax were on a percentage basis, he said, "the amount of tax paid would vary on the same product."

McNeil also said some large trucking fleets purchase their gasoline wholesale and thus would pay less tax than do fleets who do not operate this way. "Under the present circumstances, 7½ cents per gallon would be collected, irrespective of the selling price of the product," he said.

Referring to statements that the proposal would increase state revenues by raising the tax automatically along with inflation, McNeil said Nebraska already has a higher gas tax than any of her neighboring states. And, he said, Iowa, with an 8-cent per gallon Diesel tax, is the only neighboring state to have a higher Diesel fuel rate.

McNeil said the raising of the tax might actually lower revenues since interstate truckers, who make extensive use of Nebraska highways, might begin bypassing the state. If this happened the private dealers would be badly hurt also, he said.

Troops Exchange Refugee Groups

El Qantara, Israeli-held Sinai (AP) — Israel and Egypt, whose troops only a week ago battered each other with artillery barrages across the Suez Canal here, joined hands across the controversial waterway to help more than 400 refugees.

The beneficiaries were 225 Palestinian Arabs trapped in Egypt during the June war of 1967 and 226 Egyptians caught in the Israeli advance. They were exchanged between the two halves of El Qantara under International Red Cross supervision.

Panel Discussion Slated By YD's

The University of Nebraska Young Democrats will hold a panel discussion about last month's Democratic national convention Thursday at their first meeting of the school year.

YD's will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union, President Steve Flader announced Tuesday.

Among the guests will be YD National Committeeman William Riggs of Seward.

Special Water Committee Appointed

C. Russell Mattson, president of the Nebraska State Bar Association, announced Tuesday that a Special Committee on Water Resources has been appointed by the association's executive council.

The committee will be interested in the development of a state water plan and study matters relating to the allocation and management of our water and related resources.

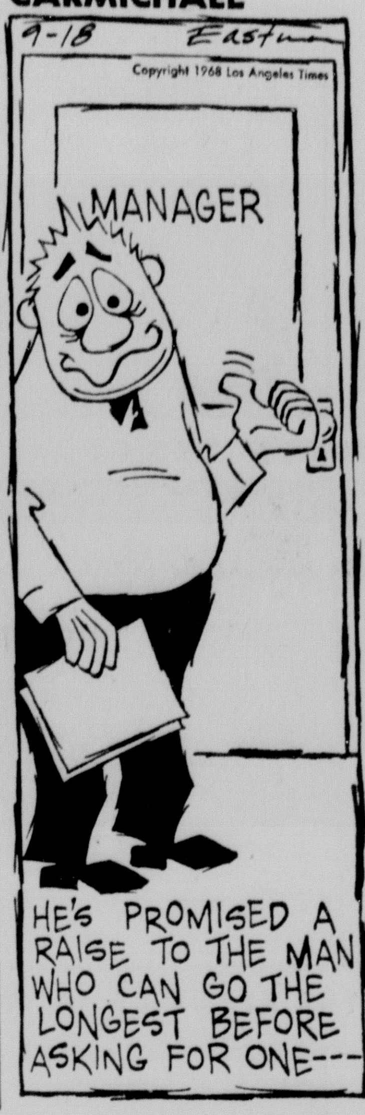
Chairman of the new committee is Richard Harnsberger, University of Nebraska law professor.

Other committee members are: Ralph J. Fischer, Lincoln, staff attorney with the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission; Cecil Brubaker, Omaha, General Counsel, Metropolitan Utilities District of Omaha; Merrill L. Andersen, Beatrice; Auburn H. Atkins, Scottsbluff; Vincent L. Dowding, Grand Island, and Lyle Winkle, Columbus.

Forest Fires Up

Ottawa (AP) — Forest fires burned more than 5.2 acres of land in Canada in the first eight months of 1968. It is a sharp increase over last year when 2.2 million acres were hit by fire.

CARMICHAEL



HE'S PROMISED A RAISE TO THE MAN WHO CAN GO THE LONGEST BEFORE ASKING FOR ONE---

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

When the sun goes down in a shower of Hawaiian gold, we've been auditioning the rummy maitai. It's a fragrant, fruity drink. A measure of the island economy.

In the past 10 years, the glamorous maitai has gone up from a dollar to $2.50 a pop — I haven't found any less than $1.85.

A few of these and the poor tourist is not only smashed. He's flat broke.

But (as Harry Truman said) if you can't stand the heat, get off the cocktail lanai.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is the Big Island of Hawaii. It is the newest of resort developments:

Laurance S. Rockefeller's swank Mauna Kea Beach Hotel. At a beach nearby, Rockefeller and the Dillinghams will put up more luxury hotels.

And on the Kona coast, where the early Hawaiians threw Captain Cook up for grabs, the rich Bishop Estate will put together $50 million more of Paradise for the mainland tourists.

☆ ☆ ☆

"The cost of getting here is getting less each year. Air fares keep going down," said an island hotel man. "But the cost of staying here gets higher."

What fills the island hotels is the charter tour groups.

"They come in at 150 a jet plane," he said. "The price —say $350 for transportation and a week in the islands. A half a dozen plane loads and you fill your hotels."

Once arrived, the malihini mainlander puts his nose into a maitai.

It's expensive, Claude, but you don't come to Hawaii to drink the common martini.

The maitai (it means "good" Tahitian) was invented by Trader Vic of San Francisco.

He invented it with a half dozen other exotic drinks — the Fogcutter, the Missionary's Downfall etc.

The maitai has been the best-seller.

It's a fruity thing, mainly lemon juice, in a double old-fashioned glass.

It is spiked with two jiggers of rum and a dark Jamaica floated on top.

The glass is packed with crushed ice. This makes the maitai profitable.

In the glass they stick a wedge of pineapple and a stick of sugar cane. Both are inexpensive and let the drinker know he is in Hawaii. Some bartenders put a tiny paper Japanese parasol over all. And all drop a little vanda orchid on top.

It's a pretty presentation. It tastes rummy.

☆ ☆ ☆

For swingers there are other exotic drinks. (One served in a coconut shell costs $5. But they let you take the shell home with you.)

I don't know how the rest of Hawaii got to use the name "maitai." (In New Orleans, the Roosevelt owns "Sazerac." Other hotels make it. But they have to figure out their own names.)

When you call Trader Vic's in San Francisco, for the recipe, they get edgy and tell you it's a secret formula.

However, you can go to a store and buy Trader Vic's Maitai Mix and Trader Vic's Maitai Rum. Ingredients are on the bottles. Mix your own. Put $2.50 in the piggy bank.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, these are rich days in the sugar islands. The sun is golden. The trade wind blows like money from home. The sea is blue as a Swiss bank note.

At Laurance Rockefeller's luxury Mauna Kea, the rooms have gone up from $45 a day (for two with meals) to $70 in the last three years.

They have added a whole new wing to take care of the rush.

Rockefeller sunk a bundle in the place. At the opening, we figured the place cost $100,000 per room. You have to be a Rockefeller to stand that nudge.

The story I like best is that a friend said to Rockefeller, "A hundred thousand dollars a room! Why Laurance, it will take you a hundred years to get that back."

Rockefeller said: "I can wait."

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

You Figure It Out

Short shots while trying to figure out what's going on in the heads of Associated Press pollsters:

Texas this week moved to fourth, trading spots with Oklahoma. Florida climbed to sixth and Alabama jumped all the way from 10th to seventh. Oregon State fell from sixth to eighth, Ohio State jumped from 11th to ninth and Penn State fell from eighth to 10th. None of those schools played last week.

Only women are supposed to be able to change their minds without a reason.

Speaking of the AP poll, in case you don't agree with the rankings each week, the reason could be a new system where AP gives the Big Eight and Missouri Valley area only four votes.

Meanwhile, the Big 10 gets 12 votes, the Atlantic Coast and Southeastern Conferences get 12, and the New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware and West Virginia area also gets 12. The only NCAA district with fewer votes than the Big Eight area is the Rocky Mountain which gets only two votes.

New York Jets' quarterback Joe Namath is backing a new restaurant chain, causing Miami columnist Ed Pope to remark, "If Joe is going to be in the kitchen, I absolutely refuse to order a sandwich until he gets a haircut."

Kicker, Not A Blocker

Green Bay kicker Don Chandler recently accepted a blocking award in behalf of teammate Jerry Kramer, remarking, "The only block I ever made was when I blocked a lady's view on the sideline."

Dallas Cowboys tight end Pete Gent claims he taught Green Bay's Leroy Caffey to steer clear of him. While blocking Caffey, Gent's eye and Leroy's finger met. "He stuck his finger in my eye, so I slammed it shut on him," says Gent.

Oklahoma State football coach Phil Cutchin, asked what a father expects a college coach to do with his son, replied, "He wants me to make a model citizen out of the boy in four years after he has spent 18 years letting him have his own way."

Former sports scribe Bob Hurt of Topeka, who has moved up to the executive level of newspapering, says he has noticed a strong similarity between sports and politics, "except that after an election, there's more booze served."

Asked if he saw anything in favor of the Sooners in their upcoming game with Notre Dame, Oklahoma coach Chuck Fairbanks replied, "Yes. They can't play all their boys at once. Only eleven at a time."

Draw Puts KSU On Top

Rotarians in Perry, Okla., decided to see how the Big Eight race would come out by putting the names in a hat and drawing them out.

The "drawn out" finish: 1. Kansas State, 2. Missouri, 3. Kansas, 4. Oklahoma State, 5. Nebraska, 6. Colorado, 7. Iowa State, 8. Oklahoma.

Minnesota joins Southern Cal and Notre Dame in placing two men on the Sport Magazine pre-season all-American team. Gophers, who will face Nebraska on Sept. 28, are tackle Ezell Jones and guard Tom Fink.

Lincoln's Cliff Orcutt, while on a recent business trip to Minnesota, scored his first hole-in-one, acing a 148-yard hole with an 8-iron on an Edina, Minn., course. "It took me 47 years to get the first one," he says, "So I figure I'll be 94 when I get the next one."

—AURORA'S VANWORMER—

Player Of Week Out For Season

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

The season's first Player of the Week only saw action for the first half of his team's game.

A returning Class B all-stater, he not only played well in his brief appearance, but in our mind deserves this recognition since those two quarters will be the only action he'll see this year.

Dan VanWormer, an all-state choice as the fullback for the Aurora Huskies when they went undefeated last year to be chosen the No. 1 Class B team in Nebraska, was injured on the first play of the second half against Cozad last Friday night.

Monday his knee was operated on for torn ligaments and he will be out of action for the remainder of his senior season.

His loss to coach Roland Carter's eleven is shown in the statistics in that first contest. Though VanWormer played but half the game he made more tackles than any teammate who played the whole game.

His true-to-the-mark 39-yard field goal got Aurora on the scoreboard first in the 12-6 conquest of the Haymakers.

The power runner picked up 52 yards in his short service and threw the key block that sprung Santos Montelongo for the only Husky TD.

"He's one of the finest backs in the state, regardless of class," coach Carter said. "We have a lot of fine kids, but he's going to leave a big hole to fill. We're just all hoping the surgery is a complete success and that maybe he'll be able to continue a fine football career."

Others who had outstanding first week games and thus deserve mention include:

Steve Bray, Waverly — This senior defensive end came up with 13 unassisted tackles in addition to scoring on a 22-yard run to lead Waverly to a 13-0 win over Gretna.

Ken Graham, Pawnee City — An interior lineman who played a big role as Class C Pawnee City beat Class B Auburn, 13-0. Graham blocked a kick and was in on 17 tackles.

Larry Todd, Valentine — Another defender who had a great day. Todd made 22 tackles and had three pass interceptions on the way to a 33-0 triumph over North Platte St. Pat's.

Kim Hanson, Valley — A passer who knows what the "long bomb" means. Hanson connected on tosses of 52 and 91-yards in pacing a 27-0 win over Louisville.

Byron Harms, Venango — A hard running back who gained an amazing 247 rushing, plus 25 through the air, while scoring three touchdowns, as Venango beat Wallace, 30-13.

State Fishing Activity Up

Fishing activity took an upsurge across the state as fine weather over the weekend coaxed many anglers out of the house to try their luck.

Success was generally good, although some fish species are more co-operative than others at the present time. Among best areas reported by Game Commission conservation officers are:

SOUTHWEST

Enders Reservoir — white bass and catfish on minnows and worms; Swanson Reservoir (Trenton) — white bass, catfish to 5 pounds; Red Willow Reservoir (McCook) — catfish, largemouth bass, northern pike; Medicine Creek Reservoir (Cambridge) — catfish to 2 pounds; Lake McConaughy (Ogallala) — trout, walleye, and white bass in the North Shore and Lemoyne areas, all on artificials; Johnson Lake (Lexington) — white bass on artificials, early morning; Tri-County Canal System — walleye; to 3 pounds on minnows; Platte River Sand Pits — white bass to 8 inches on minnows, largemouth bass.

SAND HILLS

Merritt Reservoir (Valenutine) — trout below the spillway, bullhead.

PANHANDLE

Box Butte Reservoir (Hemingford) — northern pike, smallmouth bass; West Kimball Reservoir — white bass, northern pike; Trout waters: White River, Soldier Creek, Chadron City Reservoir.

SOUTHEAST

Alexandria Recreation Area — largemouth bass, catfish; Pawnee Lake (Emerald) — catfish to 3 pounds on prepared bait; Hord Lake (Central City) — bluegill, largemouth bass.

NORTHEAST

Gavins Point Dam Tailwaters (Crofton) — catfish, carp, walleye; Verdigre Creek (above Grove Lake, Royal) — trout averaging 10 inches; Missouri River (Tekamah to Fort Calhoun) — catfish.

Bathgate Signs

Brantford, Ont. (AP) — Andy Bathgate, the West Division scoring leader last season, signed with the Pittsburgh Penguins Tuesday for his 15th season in the National Hockey League.

U.S. TRACKMEN BEST EVER

TIGER HEROES . . . Detroit third baseman Don Wert, who knocked in the winning run, has champagne poured over his head by winning pitcher Joe Sparma, right, as the Detroit Tigers celebrate their first American League pennant in 23 years.

Tigers Win AL Pennant; SF's Perry No-Hits Cards

By Associated Press

The Detroit Tigers, refusing to back in to their first American League pennant since 1945, nipped the New York Yankees 2-1 Tuesday night on Don Wert's bases-loaded single in the ninth inning — minutes after Boston eliminated second-place Baltimore 2-0.

Wert's two-out single scored Al Kaline, touching off a wild demonstration in the Tiger Stadium crowd of 46,512 — which had not been informed of the Baltimore loss that put Detroit over the top.

A few hours later on the West Coast, San Francisco's Gaylord Perry pitched a no-hitter against St. Louis' National League champions as the Giants beat Bob Gibson 1-0.

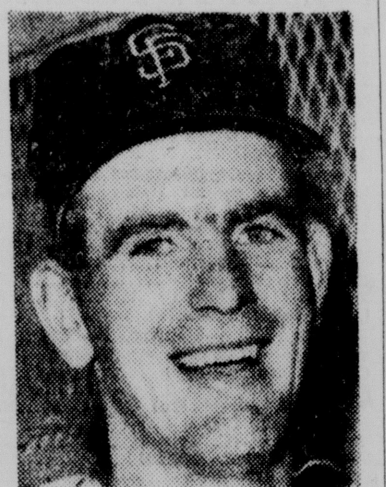
Perry, given a first inning edge on Ron Hunt's home run, breezed past the Cardinals, facing 29 batters. He walked two and struck out eight on the way to the NL's second no-hitter this season and the fourth in the majors.

Joe Sparma blanked the Yankees until the ninth, when Jake Gibbs' two-out run-scoring single tied the game. But the Tigers filled the bases with two out in the bottom half on a pair of walks and Bill Freehan's single before Wert delivered the winning run against New York relief ace Lindy McDaniel.

The victory sent the Tigers 11½ games ahead of the Orioles with 10 to play.

Boston's Ray Culp stymied Baltimore on five hits and struck out 12 in outpitching 20-game winner Dave McNally. Carl Yastrzemski tripled one run home in the first inning and scored on Ken Harrelson's double.

Frank Howard lashed a two-run double in the eighth, carrying Washington past Cleveland 4-2.



Gaylord Perry

Rookie Bill Melton poled a two-run homer, giving the Chicago White Sox a 2-1 victory over Oakland, but the A's snapped a four-game losing streak with an 8-1 romp in the doubleheader nightcap. Joe Horlen stopped the A's on five hits in the opener and Oakland's John "Blue Moon" Odom scattered six in the nightcap.

California's scheduled afternoon game at Minnesota was rained out.

Rookie Jim McAndrew fired a two-hitter as the New York Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2. Ron Swoboda scored the winning run on the front end of a double steal in the fourth inning.

Gene Alley doubled and scored one run, then drilled his third homer of the year, leading Pittsburgh to a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia.

Leon McFadden's squeeze bunt capped a four-run burst in the fourth that swept Houston past Atlanta 5-1 on Mike Cuellar's six-hitter.

On the Pacific Coast Tuesday night, the Los Angeles Dodgers held a 4-0 lead over the Cincinnati Reds after three innings.

Benvenuti Tops Omahan

Toronto (AP) — Nino Benvenuti of Italy, world middleweight champion, hammered out an easy, unanimous decision Tuesday night over Art Hernandez of Omaha, Neb., in a 10-round non-title fight.

Benvenuti, who has said he will defend his title against Don Fullmer, West Jordan, Utah, in November, was in complete control all the way.

There were no knockdowns, but in the ninth round, Hernandez waved off the referee when it appeared the official planned to stop the fight.

In the third round, Hernandez, who weighed 164 to Benvenuti's 163½, had blood flowing from his nose. The referee warned Benvenuti later in the round against what appeared to be a low blow.

At the noon weigh-in, Bruno Amaduzzi, Benvenuti's manager, threatened to call off the bout unless he got a new contract. The original contract called for the fight to be held Monday, with Benvenuti getting $30,000.

Because of the one-day postponement, Amaduzzi held out for $30,000 and 30 per cent of the net profits. He got it.

Utah Grid Team Largely Unknown

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Trying to prepare for the unknown is a task facing the Nebraska football coaching staff this week as they try to get ready for the invasion of Memorial Stadium Saturday by Utah.

"We have to go on what we learned from their spring game," NU head coach Bob Devaney allowed after his squad had completed a soggy workout Tuesday afternoon. "We probably have less to go on in preparing for this team than any team we've ever faced."

Compounding the problem of not having had a chance to scout Utah is the fact that the Redskins also have a new coach in Bill Meek.

"He's a new coach, but he also didn't coach anywere last year," Devaney pointed out. "So we can't go on what he did last year."

However, the Husker coach said he didn't feel his staff could be too far off in preparing the Huskers on the basis of the Utah spring game.

"The biggest change we are likely to see is in their defense," he noted. "They played a pretty much straight defense in the spring game and I think it was just a token defense and no indication of what they might do in a real game."

Utah has eight starters back on defense, Devaney pointed out. "They have good ends," he added, "And they bottled Minnesota up good last year and had the game won until the last minute when Minnesota pulled it out."

The Husker staff is fully cognizant of the fact that Utah is another team coming out of the Western Athletic Conference, similar to Wyo[illegible].

"This bunch is liable to be tough," he asserts, "And knowing no more about them than we do, it might take quite awhile to figure out just what they are doing."

After a careful study of the defensive films of the Wyoming game, Devaney figured the Husker defense wasn't as outstanding as he had at first thought.

"The defense made some mistakes besides that pass play where Wyoming scored," he said. "The two ends, Sherwin Jarmon and Mike Wynn, did a good job, but the other part of the line was only mediocre and that includes the linebackers, who we thought would be pretty good.

"Our defensive backs were making more tackles than I've seen in a long time. For instance, I can't remember Dan Kobza (middle guard) getting in on one play."

The NU boss, however, said part of the problem could be the lack of experience in the defensive line.

"These people are playing for the first time," he pointed out. "Even Kobza, who played some linebacker, is a newcomer at middle guard."

Devaney said films also showed some problems still exist in the offensive line. "We're apt to be quite fluid there until someone asserts himself. Right now, there's not too much difference between several people.

"Glenn Patterson and Jim McFarland looked good in the films, but after that you get a big fat blank the rest of the way."

The Huskers got in a full practice session Tuesday despite getting wet frequently from rain.

"We got most of the things done we had planned," Devaney observed, "But we will probably pay for it later because we're tearing the field up pretty good."

Quarterback Frank Patrick worked at near full speed Tuesday, but defensive back Jim Hawkins was only in sweat clothes and did not take part in the workout.

"It's very doubtful that we will be able to use him," Devaney said. Bob Best is running in his spot with sophomore Tom Heller of Kearney the backup man.

Joe Orduna saw some action at fullback in what Devaney termed "strictly an insurance move.

"Dan Schneiss (sophomore fullback) looked good today. He turned in some good blocks. And Frank Patrick and Ernie Sigler both threw the ball well."

Four Records Go In Trials

. . . DISSENSION THREAT OVER

South Lake Tahoe, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. men's Olympic track and field team, wracked by dissension and doubt only a few weeks ago, has now taken on the aura of an athletic lovein.

The threat of boycott by black athletes has evaporated into the mountain air. Its leader, Harry Edwards, is thousands of miles away studying for his doctorate at Cornell.

The team chosen here during the final high-altitude trials Sept. 9-16 is, with one or two exceptions, as strong as it could possibly be and will surely be the most powerful aggregation ever to compete for the United States in the Olympic Games.

The performances during the trials at this training site 7,377 feet above sea level, were for the most part fabulous.

"I think we're realizing our potential," said Payton Jordan, head coach of the team, as the trials drew to a close. "I think the evidence is rather clear that we've been here long enough."

Four world records were bettered — in the 200-meter intermediate hurdles and the pole vault. But it was the depth of performance, the amazing marks compiled by the second, third and sometimes fourth and fifth-place finishers, that cheered coaches the most.

For instance, the second-place performences in three of the record-setting events. Tommie Smith was second to John Carlos in the 200, but at 19.9 seconds was one-tenth under his own world record. Larry James was second to Lee Evans in the 400, but at 44.1 was three-tenths under the pending world mark. Boyd Gitten was second to Geoff Vanderstock in the 400 hurdles, but at 49.1 tied the world mark.

The succeeding finishers in each of these events also finished in times so fast that hopes for a sweep of the medals in Mexico City next month are not unreasonable.

Carlos' winning time in the 200 was 19.7, Evans took the 400 in 44.0 and Vanderstock won the 400 hurdles in 48.8. Bob Seagren set a record in the pole vault at 17 feet 9 inches.

So great were some of the performances, that the question arose whether, with nearly a month to go until the Olympic track events start, some of the athletes might not have hit their peak too soon.

Jordan had an answer for that declaring with finality, "Champions never peak too soon."

Generally there were few surprises in the makeup of the team — Larry Questad making it in the 200 might be one, high schoolers Casey Carrigan in the pole vault and Reynaldo Brown in the high jump, two more — as no less than 12 former Olympians repeated.

Such familiar names as Al Oerter in the discus and Harold Connolly in the hammer, Tom Farrell in the 800, Randy Matson in the shot put, Ralph Boston in the long jump, John Pennel in the pole vault, George Young in the steeplechase and marathon, and Mel Pender in the 100, all are back for another shot.

There were some negative surprises. Everybody knew Gerry Lindgren had missed practice because of a tendon injury, but few expected the gutty little distance runner to miss out in both the 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

Nobody expected Dave Patrick to beat Jim Ryun at 1,500 meters, but few thought he would finish fourth and off the team.

In many cases, the competition was stronger here than it will be in Mexico City. Sprinters Tom Randolph and Jerry Bright will see on television many runners from other countries who could never get near the 20.1 seconds in the 200 that didn't even earn this pair a spot on the team.

Ans if Charlie Greene is second in the 100 meters in Mexico, it will probably be to Jim Hines just as it was here.

Husker Game Aids Science

By Associated Press

A doctor who has had three heart attacks in two years sat in on Saturday's exciting Nebraska-Wyoming football game — in the interest of science.

Dr. Ben Bishop, formerly of Crawford, was the first volunteer for a new cardiac stress measuring project launched by Dr. Kenneth Rose, medical researcher at the University Student Health Center. Dr. Rose seeks to learn how the hearts of recovered coronary patients react at a football game.

A portable transmitter relayed every beat of Dr. Bishop's heart throughout the game to Dr. Rose's monitoring system nearby.

Dr. Bishop's ticker operated as steady as a clock, Dr. Rose found.

Dr. Rose acknowledges that using recovered cardiac patients in the football game tests breaks his own advice that persons with heart problem history stay away from football games.

"Don't even watch or listen to them at home if you have to get involved," he counsels heart patients.

But in Saturday's test, Dr. Bishop demonstrated that the brain can boss the heart.

"This is true, but it takes strong self discipline," said Dr. Sam Fuenning, Student Health director and a project observer.

The first two of Dr. Bishop's heart attacks led him to give up his Crawford practice to join the Student Health Center staff.

"There's no such thing as half-time general practice," he explained.

ISF Stamps Approval On 44 World Records

. . . MAJORITY TO AMERICANS

Osaka, Japan (AP) — The International Swimming Federation announced Tuesday approval of 44 world records and one record-tying performance, a majority of them by Americans.

The new marks cover the period from the beginning of the year until Sept. 15. In several events, the records approved included those broken at a later date and also approved. This gives recognition to a swimmer for breaking a record, even if it only holds up for a short time.

Debbie Meyer, the 16-year-old star from Sacramento, Calif., set eight freestyle records in the nine-month period — once in the 200, twice in the 400, four times in the 800 and once in the 1,500. She has the world marks for the four events.

Karen Muir, the 16-year-old backstroker from South Africa who won't be able to compete in the Olympics because of the ban on her country, was credited with five recrods in her specialty.

The final world records included 26 and one tie, with American women held nine Americans getting 16 and a tie. The American women held nine and the men seven and a tie.

The non-American women record-holders include Miss Muir with four and Canada's Angela Coughlan with one — for the 1,650 yards freestyle.

In the men's list, Canada had one, Ralph Hutton, 400 meters freestyle; Russia two, Nikolai Pankin in the 100-meter breaststroke and Vladimir Kosinsky in the 200-meter breaststroke; East Germany one, Roland Matthes in the 200-meter backstroke and West Germany one, Michael Holthaus in the 440-yard individual medley. Matthes also holds the 100 meter mark in his pet event.

Buff Defensive Players Injured

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — Injuries to defensive players dogged Colorado's football team in a scrimmage Tuesday but none appeared to be too serious, Coach Eddie Crowder said.

Defensive end Dick Bartlet reinjured a shoulder that bothered him two years ago and defensive tackle Bill Brundige banged up an ankle that troubled him in the past.

Crowder said it was too early to know if they will be out of action for the opener against Oregon at Boulder Saturday.

The first offensive backfield now is made up of junior quarterback Bob Anderson, one of the Big Eight's best; slot back Mike Pruett and two sophomores, fullback Ward Walsh and tailback Glen Bailey.

AL Prexy Says He Did Right

Boston (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin supported Tuesday his firing of two umpires, calling them "inefficient and never first class at any one time."

Cronin said he and his umpire-scouting personnel, former AL umpires Cal Hubbard and Charlie Berry, had considered the qualifications of Al Salerno and William Valentine for some time before the two were fired Monday.

Asked in what aspects the two were lacking Cronin said they were "just inefficient, that's all. How do you judge an umpire? They're just good or bad, that's all."

Salerno and Valentine said they were fired because they tried to organize their AL colleagues. Cronin said he knew nothing about any attempt to organize the umpires in his league.

The two umpires said they were trying to organize to get benefits equal to that of their counterparts. They said NL umpires are paid from $3,000 to $7,750 more annually.

Cronin said he didn't have any idea what NL umpires are making, but admitted he wouldn't be surprised if they were making a little more money, due to higher attendance among the NL teams. He said his umpires received a fine bonus after the league's successful 1967 season, but declined to specify the figure.

Salerno, a member of the league since 1961, said this was his year in the rotation to umpire in the World Series, an honor that carries with it a sizable pay check. Cronin said an umpire may be in rotation, but that does not necessiate his being used.

"If a fellow is having a good year when his turn comes up in the rotation, we drop him in," Cronin said. "If he's not, we might bypass him."

Salerno and Valentine, who joined the league in 1962, attended a meeting of the National League Umpires Association last Friday when it was decided to form one group of umpires for both leagues. Valentine said cards were sent after the meeting to the 20 AL umpires asking for authorization to be represented by a new association. He said a majority of the umpires had approved "before we even went to Chicago."

In 1966 AL umpires met with Cronin to discuss benefits, but "he just completely exploded," Valentine said. But Cronin said Valentine "has the wrong meeting."

"I had a fine talk with a committee of umpires then and Valentine wasn't there," Cronin said. "He's confusing it when I spoke with him once and gave him a little pep talk."

Two rookie umpires from the Southern Association will fill in for the remainder of the season. They are Bill Kunkel, former New York Yankee pitcher, and Jake O'Donnell.

Kathy Asks For Change In Ruling

Upper Marlboro, Md. (AP) — Kathy Kusner, 27-year-old Olympic rider who wants to be the nation's first woman major-track jockey, has asked the courts to overrule her rejection by the Maryland State Racing Commission.

The commission has twice denied her application for a jockey's license after stewards reported her riding not up to par for a professional jockey.

The stewards made this finding even though the pretty Miss Kusner, a 5-foot-4, 103-pound brunette, is one of three women who have won spots on the U.S. Equestrian jump team that will compete in next month's Olympic Games.

She appealed the commission's decision Monday to Judge Ernest A. Loveless. Near the end of the hearing, Loveless observed:

"More and more I'm reminded that hell had no fury like a woman scored."

Her attorney, Audrey Melbourne, contended the commission's decision was the result of sex discrimination.

But Jon F. Oster, attorney for the commission, disputed that. "Skill, strength and age — that is what is against her — not sex," Oster said.

Loveless reserved decision.

Courts Approve Act Opening Jury Service To All Voters

© New York Times Service

New York — The nation's 11 Circuit Courts of Appeals have approved plans for carrying out a new law designed to open jury service in federal courts to thousands who have never had that opportunity and to require service of many who had previously avoided it.

The law, which goes into effect Dec. 22, provides a random selection of both grand and petit jurors from voter registration lists. It does away with discriminatory blue-ribbon juries and the arbitrary selection of qualified jurors hand-picked by clerks or jury commissioners.

The greatest impact of the new law will be in the South, where increasing numbers of registered Negro voters will have the opportunity to be called and to serve on both trial and grand juries. Jurors in some sections of the South are qualified arbitrarily by a clerk or commissioner.

Effective Guarantee

The law was desgined to give an effective guarantee against discrimination and make the jury selection process fair to all groups.

The selection of jurors from voter registration lists is expected to serve as a built-in screening device to eliminate those who are so uninterested and unconcerned with public affairs that they do not register to vote.

The law is further designed to obtain juries from members of all groups in a county. It will permit more members of the lower social and economic group to serve. This was further bolstered by raising the daily juror's fee from $10 to $20.

Toughness Urged

No longer will a citizen be permitted to volunteer for jury service on either grand or petit panels. And all District Court judges have been urged to be as tough as possible in excusing jurors from serive.

The Federal Jury Selection and Service Act of 1968 was signed into law by the President last March. Each of the federal districts throughout the country had to propose its own plan, which, in turn, had to be approved this week by the Circuit Courts of Appeals.

Under the new law, each federal district will have a specific plan as to who must be excluded from jury service and who can, by option, be exempt. Women will no longer be exempt by request if they do not fit into the exempt category.

Stevenson Criticizes Daley Tactics

Chicago (UPI) — Illinois State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson III said Tuesday the city of Chicago failed to act realistically and thereby made violence inevitable during the Democratic National Convention.

If Mayor Richard J. Daley's administration had used different tactics against antiwar protesters, he said, "Chicago would not now be scorned by thinking people throughout the world."

The city "would not have given the revolutionaries a triumph which will inspire them for a long time to come," he said.

Tough Tactics

Stevenson's charge, contained in a newsletter to his constituents, was the first sharp criticism by a major Illinois Democrat of the tough tactics used by police and National Guardsmen in battling thousands of demonstrators who demanded the right to sleep in city parks and march on the convention hall last month.

Stevenson, son of the late ambassador to the United Nations, attracted national attention earlier this year when he told Democratic slatemakers he could not guarantee support of all of President Johnson's Vietnam policies if he were chosen to run for the Senate against Everett Dirksen. The slatemakers passed over Stevenson and chose Illinois Atty. Gen. William Clark, who has since become a frequent critic of war programs.

In his newsletter, Stevenson refused to join in attacks on the Chicago police, calling them "those harassed, underpaid public servants." He also repeated his firm support of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and praised the convention itself for being "truly representative."

'Little Room'

But he charged "there was little room for dissent" in Chicago and in the Illinois Democratic Party.

During convention week in Chicago, he said, "doors to legitimate dissent and peaceable assembly were closed. That is why the confrontation happened and the violence became inevitable."

Only "a few thousand kids and a handful of agitators" came to Chicago instead of the "tens of thousands of hippies, Yippies, Communists, anarchists, barebreasted women for peace — you name it," predicted by their leaders, Stevenson said.

Judge Sentences Bank Executive For Embezzling

Cleveland (UPI) — A studious, 28-year-old bank executive with a spotless past record was sentenced to six months in prison Tuesday for embezzling $605,000 to play the stock market.

Federal Judge Thomas Lambros cited Anthony M. Arden's "impeccable record through high school, college and business" in imposing the light sentence.

Arden, slim, 6-feet-2, bespectabled and described as an "average man," returned $450,000 of the money. Restitution for the other $155,000 which he lost on the market was made by the bonding company for the Union Commerce Bank where he worked for 2½ years.

New York (AP) — The stock market continued in upward stride Tuesday on moderately heavy volume.

General Motors dipped ¼, at 83¾ while American Motors and Ford were unchanged at 12½ and 53⅝.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed with a gain of 1.68 at 923.05. The Associated Press 60-stock average added 1.9 at 342.8, with industrials up 1.9, rails up 2.3, and utilities unchanged.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Rising Popular Expectations To Confront New President

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Affluence Expected

When a new President enters the White House on January 20, he will be confronted with a fact of life in the form of rising popular expectations.

For example, the high plateau of business volume and employment has set new records in continuing for 90 months.

Affluence is nowadays taken for granted. The Hippies, the Yippies and other dissidents pretend to frown on prosperity, but the pains of the disadvantaged would obviously become more acute in a time of depression. With inflammable opinion in existence, an economic collapse would have deplorable social implications.

Moreover, every practical politician knows that prosperity is good for the "ins" and recessions a source hope for the "outs." Accordingly, the next President, whomever he may be, won't be disposed to commit political suicide by self righteously turning precipitately from current methods toward the more austere standards of rectitude of the classical economists.

Scientific Facts

An effort should be made to distinguish scientific facts, on the one hand, from excessive claims and blue sky, on the other. We are still only in the early stages of developng a technique for reducing fluctuations in economic volume. The Brookings Institution at Washington, D.C. has brought out a new book entitled, "Studies in Economic Stabilization," which examines the current state of the art and science of achieving high level economic activity.

The authors recognize that ever since the early days of the New Deal more than three decadeds ago, efforts have been made to use fiscal policy as a stabilizer, but systematic studies are new.

The late Lord John Maynard Keynes, the British heterodox economist, broke new ground three decades ago when he advocated balancing the budget over a business cycle, instead of year by year. Keynes proposed that, if deficits are condoned in interludes of recession and unemployment in order to give the economy a shot in the arm, then budgets should be overbalanced in booms and the surplus used for the counterinflationary purpose of reducing national debt.

The economic advisers of the Kennedy-Johnson administration went beyond Keynes, and planned budgetary deficits in a period of expanding prosperity. One adverse result was the acceleration of inflationary pressures, and this year counter measures were taken in the form of a 10% federal surtax and a mandatory reduction of $6 billion in federal expenditures.

Time Lags

The authors appraise the effect of time lags in the response to governmental fiscal controls and point out: "The thrust of this analysis has been to point up the weakness of countercyclical variation in (governmental) expenditure, and to place manipulation of (tax) revenues and transfer payments (such as Social Security benefits) in the forefront of discretionary stabilization policy.

"A useful experiment on the effect of tax reduction on consumer behavior has been provided by the tax cut of 1964 . . . Consumers reacted to income change brought about by the tax cut quite promptly and in accordance with their past response to sustained income changes."

In more primitive times, such as in the effort back in 1932-33 to control the depression, there was faith in public works as a stabilizer. The idea was that public works were to be reduced during a boom and increased in times of recession.

One of the authors, Ann F. Friedlander, has made a sophisticated updating of this effort at control. She concludes: "The existing arrangements, which require that Congress initiate any public works program, make highway construction expenditures an unwieldy tool against the typically mild postwar recessions. In addition to the lags in recognition (of a recession), the lags of Congressional action are so long that the trough of a recession is likely to be reached before any program can be initiated.

"(However), assume that Congress passed a law creating a highway stabilization fund into which the Bureau of Public Roads placed all the projects at the approval stage that could be completed in less than a year. The President would then be given discretionary power to release projects in this fund whenever he had determined that a recession had developed . . . Under these conditions, special anti-recession funds could begin to enter the income stream within four or five months after the beginning of a recession and could be completed within eighteen months after the downturn."

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Fed Steers, Heifers Are Firm, Up

Omaha (AP) — Continued moderate marketings in the midlands injected a little rally into the sluggish slaughter cattle market at Omaha Tuesday.

Fed steers and heifers were firm to 25 higher, with most steady to strong. Cows ruled steady to strong, instances 25 higher.

Receipts at Omaha and other points were reduced considerably from a week ago. Heavy, day-long rain Monday hampered loading at many areas.

Continued heavy slaughter is acting as a drag on any recovery move the market may envision. Slaughter under federal inspection last week hit a record 648,000 head, up from 57 thousand the previous week and 578,000 a year ago.

Resulting beef production, while up, was not as large as such a slaughter figure would indicate. Average weight of all cattle butchered was 1,010 lbs., unchanged from the previous week, but 14 pounds lighter than a year ago.

Cows were also in light supply here Tuesday and prices firmed. Bulls traded steady to weak.

Fresh arrivals of feeder cattle were being held for Friday's carload auction.

Two loads of choice to prime 1,181-1,257 lb. fed beeves drew $28.75 for the top. Several shipments of choice to prime 1,094-1,200 lbs. $28.40-28.50, bulk choice down to $26.75 with weights 11 hundred pounds and up starting at $27.25.

Choice to prime 919-1,059 lb. heifers earned $27.25, near six loads comparable quality 882-1,021 lbs. $26.35-27.10.

Light supplies also sparked a strong to 25 higher trade on hogs. Top on butchers edged a dime higher to $20.60 for a short load of well-sorted offerings. Bulk top $20.50 for sorted 190-240 lb. weights.

Sows bunched at $16.75-18.75.

Wheat Futures Prices Decline

Chicago (AP) — Wheat futures prices fell nearly 3½ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday.

Rye prices fell more than 3 cents, soybean meal and oil prices advanced under active buying and set seasonal highs in several contracts.

Trade was generally mixed and steady.

The liquidation of wheat futures was attributed to a U.S. Department of Agriculture report, issued Monday, that stated farmers had placed some 200 million bushels of their 1968 crop wheat under government support loans. The trade had estimated impoundings would exceed 250 million bushels.

Reports of rain over wide sections of the Corn Belt influenced buying of corn and soybeans futures in the belief that early harvesting of these two commodities might be held up by wet fields. Later in the session, however, profit taking set in and prices eased to close lower.

Oats and rye trade was light and mostly local and both moved generally with corn and wheat until the close, when oats advanced.

At the close of grain trade, wheat was 2½ to 3⅜ cents a bushel lower, September 1.15¼; corn was unchanged to ⅜ lower, September 1.06½; oats were unchanged to ¼ higher, September 61⅜ cents; rye was ¾ to 3½ lower, September 1.12; and soybeans were unchanged to ¾ lower, September 2.62¼.

Fairmont Foods Reports Quarterly Sales, Earnings

Omaha (UPI) — Fairmont Foods Co. operations for the second quarter ended Aug. 31 resulted in net sales of $72,276,005 and net earnings of $1,368,339, or 35 cents per common share, it was announced Tuesday.

Second quarter sales increased 8.4% over sales of $66,648,393 for the second quarter last year, and were the highest for any quarter in the company's 84-year history. Net earnings, reflecting provision for the 10% surcharge on federal income tax, declined slightly from the $1,423,426 or 37 cents per common share achieved for the second quarter last year.

The surcharge reduced Fairmont's second quarter net earnings this year by about four cents per common share. Second quarter earnings were said also adversely affected by start-up expenses of our new Coshocton, Ohio, dairy plant and shutdown expenses of the plants it replaces.

These expenses had about one-half the impact of the surcharge and are expected to continue at the same rate through the third quarter, the firm said.

Republicans In House Back Farm Extension For Nixon

Washington (UPI) — House Republicans rallied under the Nixon banner Tuesday night to pave the way for a one-year extension of major farm programs and block a proposed $20,000 ceiling on annual federal payments to individual farms.

The House, in approving the appointment of conferees to meet with their Senate counterparts to iron out differences between the two versions of the farm program bill, instructed the conferees to insist on the House provision to extend the programs for one year.

The Seante version would extend for four years, through 1973, the federal programs of supports for the major crops — wheat, feed grass, cotton and wool.

The House bill, while providing a one-year extension on the programs that run out Dec. 31, 1969, also would impose the $20,000 annual limitation on the federal payments.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., served notice last week that he would ask that the House conferees be instructed to stand firm on the $20,000 ceiling, a provision opposed by virtually every congressional farm leader.

But hours before the House took up the farm bill, Rep. Dan Kuykendall, R-Tenn., sent a telegram to fellow Republican congressmen reminding them that their presidential candidate supports the one-year extension and urging them to oppose Findley.

"Richard Nixon advised us in his Iowa speech last Saturday that a one-year farm bill extension is desirable," Kuykendall said. "The Findley resolution . . . would in fact kill the farm bill and endanger the election or re-election of at least 20 farm belt congressmen"

Whites Beat Negro Youth 'To A Pulp'

Altamonte Springs, Fla. (AP) — A young Negro was taken for a terror ride and "beaten to an unrecognizable pulp" by a group of whites who mistakenly believed he had sexual relations with a white teenage girl, authorities said Tuesday.

Seminole County Sheriff Peter Milliot said the youth, who was dumped on the side of a highway, received multiple skull fractures.

Milliot disclosed the case and reported his investigation to the state attorney's office, he said, after Seminole County Commissioner Lawrence Swofford called in a commission meeting for a grand jury probe of the case.

The sheriff said McNeil Simmons, 18, suffered multiple compound skull fractures as well as other injuries in the beating June 15.

Swofford said Simmons had been beaten to an "unrecognizable pulp, apparently with a machete." His wounds required 400 stitches to close, Swofford said.

Milliot said the case was first reported as a hit and run accident and complaint forms officially listed the case as accidental. The sheriff said local newsmen were informed of the case but were asked not to publish stories about it.

The sheriff accused Swofford, a Democrat running for re-election, of making the case public to embarrass the sheriff, a Republican appointed last November by Gov. Claude Kirk.

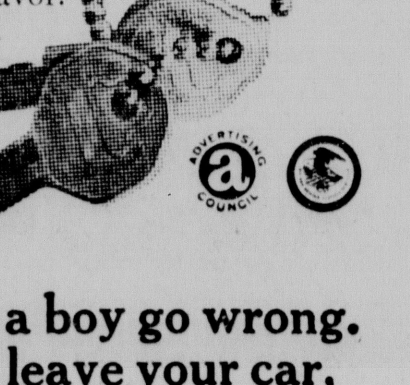
Why the average car thief looks so young.

Ever seen a typical car thief? For openers, he looks scared. And he looks like a kid…because most cars are stolen by kids under 18.

Our teen-agers. Every day, they steal 1,000 cars. Because we—you and I—make it easy for them.

We leave the keys in the car. Because we're too busy to take them with us. And maybe—just maybe—because we can't remember what a temptation it is to drive a car when you're a kid.

Do yourself a favor. Do the nation a favor. Take your keys.



Don't help a boy go wrong. When you leave your car, take your keys.

WHERE MANY MORE FINE AUTOMOBILES ARE SOLD FOR FAR LESS

Do you realize that while your older car may be worth as much as $1000 or even more to us now — the State Inspection Law LB806 could make it valueless by January 1?

This is a startling fact, but did you realize that due to Legislative Bill #LB806 becoming effective January 1, 1969 each automobile registered in Nebraska must pass a state supervised motor vehicle inspection requiring approval of Horns — Mirrors — Windshield wipers — Glass — Tires — Wheels — Rims — Mufflers and exhaust system — Brakes — Steering — Suspension — Wheel alignment — Lamps and lighting — Body and sheet metal. That's a fact!

YOUR OLD CAR IS WORTH MORE TO US NOW THAN AFTER JANUARY 1

That's right, we have dealers from the North and from the West who possible won't be affected by such a law and are willing to pay you a premium for your old car.

Kansas Collector Urges Lincoln Businessmen To Back Art

"Collectors' infection," he called it.

But the way Louis Sosland of Shawnee Mission, Kan., described it, it came out more of a wonder drug.

Speaking to a group of Lincoln businessmen Tuesday, Sosland — an art collector himself — urged the Lincolnites to "get more involved" in art.

"Art is not my business," the Kansas publisher insisted, however. "My wife and I got involved in collecting in a personal way."

Rewards Infinite

But the rewards are infinite, he said.

Sosland and his wife Rheta own one of the largest and finest "home" art collections in the Midwest.

Selections from that collection are currently on exhibition in Lincoln's Sheldon Art Gallery.

"It becomes an art to separate yourself from the security of cash in order to buy art," he warned the group.

Responsibility

But he said it was the businessman's responsibility as well as pleasure to support art — if not through collecting, then through endowment.

Creative arts in the past have been supported by church, by the state or by the aristocracy, he noted.

But today, he said, the arts are looking to the businessman.

"It's a responsibility each of you will have to display in the future," he said.

Sosland, a supporter if not soldier of numerous groups in his area aiding the arts, also discoursed briefly on the techniques of raising money to support artistic institutions.

One instance, he recalled, boiled down to almost strongarm techniques. But the money was raised.

After all, he told the group, who is more equipped than a businessman to raise money?

Best Money Raisers

"Nobody can raise money better than you fellows yourselves," he said. "You know who to talk to."

Sosland also praised the Sheldon gallery and its director, Norman Geske.

". . . That beautiful building," he called it.

"I hope you'll find some way to get more closely tied to it."

Defense Dept. Team Schedules Air Park Planning Study

A Defense Department team will arrive in Lincoln Oct. 7 to begin an industrial planning study of Lincoln Air Park West, the Lincoln Airport Authority was notified Tuesday.

The study, designed to suggest profitable commercial uses of the former air base, will be undertaken by the department's Office of Economic Adjustment, headed by Don Bradford.

It will be prepared at no cost to the airport authority or the city.

In related development action, the authority noted that circulars have been distributed to Nebraska industries advising them of the availability of additional air park facilities after the expiration of the government lease on the former Job Corps land.

The authority tentatively agreed not to oppose industrial zoning requested by Abel Investment Co. for a 12-acre tract near the airport access road.

The firm has plans to reactivate a concrete plant on the property, and the authority opposed the necessary rezoning before the City-County Planning Commission. The matter is now before the City Council.

Abel Investment attorney James Hewitt told the authority that a new, low-profile plant will be built on the site. It will be fenced in and truck traffic will be controlled, he said.

Other authority business:

—Approved pay schedules for 1968-69.

—Approved a lease for a third building at the air park with Brunswick Corp.

—Authority attorney Chauncey Barney advised the board that the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) has set Oct. 29 as the date for a hearing on the Omaha-Des Moines air service case.

Lincoln had intervened in the case to protect its own air service needs.

Passage Of County Zoning Regulations Poked By Bates

Lancaster County commissioners Tuesday were criticized by Charles Bates for the board's recent action in passing county zoning regulations. Bates termed the action "one of the most deadly things ever signed in Lancaster County."

Bates said as an interested citizen he would like some answers to questions about the new code so he might pass along the message to county residents who will be affected by the code.

He compared the regulations to the minimum housing code passed last year by the City Council, adding that it is another step in the comprehensive plan "to take over the entire county."

"They can't invade the county with tax but they can invade it by law," he said.

County Board Chairman William Grossman indicated to Bates that he would thoroughly examine the regulations and attempt to answer the questions of Bates.

Grossman said that the regulations were not drawn up to create problems for any county property owners but merely to help eliminate undesirable developments.

In other action, the board set Oct. 8 for public hearing on the application for an amusement license sought by Ben Dolan for the Kraal Klub in West Lincoln.

Enrollment Up At Both UNO, Creighton U.

Omaha (AP) — The registrar at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, Virgil Sharpe, said that an all-time record of more than 10,400 students have begun classes at the school.

Director of Information Ralph Bradley said UNO had added sections of various courses to handle the volume. But he said some students will still be unable to get the exact course to fit their time schedule.

Most classes, he said, will be filled.

Classes also began at Creighton University, which expects a total enrollment of 4,150 students.

Last year about 8,730 students were registered at what was then the University of Omaha. The Creighton enrollment last year was about 4,100 students.
